

Engage Fall with New Harvest Hoopla: Children's Ministry Curriculum by The Sunday School Store

August 16, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - August 16, 2024 -
The Sunday School Store has announced the launch of its latest offering, the Harvest Hoopla: 4-Lesson Children's Ministry Curriculum. This new curriculum, designed for kids aged 6-12, mixes fun fall activities with meaningful spiritual lessons. It's aimed at teaching children to appreciate God's blessings and to understand and accept the changes He has planned for them. This curriculum is now available for purchase and can enhance Sunday teaching experiences with engaging activities and lessons.

Tony Kummer, the curriculum author, stated, "We wanted to bring the excitement of a fall festival into the children's church. This lesson series is tailored for a harvest-themed curriculum for children's ministry or Sunday School. These lessons address the fear of change and encourage kids to maintain their faith in God, even when life is uncertain. With this series, children can be thankful for God's blessings and look forward to changes because He is in control."

The curriculum includes four comprehensive lessons that feature Bible stories, essential scriptures, main ideas, and connections to the gospel. Each lesson is designed to be interactive with discussion questions, prayer activities, printable word searches, coloring pages, and crafts.

Each lesson in the Harvest Hoopla Curriculum focuses on fostering gratitude among kids for the blessings they receive and teaches them to trust in God's plan. By combining thematic fall activities with spiritual education, this curriculum makes these lessons both engaging and meaningful for young minds. The goal is to help children build a thankful heart and a confident faith.

The Sunday School Store offers a variety of religious educational materials and resources. Their services include a 52-week curriculum, free downloads, a specialized Easter curriculum, and new releases. These resources cater to children at different stages of development, from toddlers to elementary school students. Engaging learning activities like crafts, games, coloring pages, Bible stories, songs, and Vacation Bible School (VBS) materials are all part of their extensive offerings.

Tony Kummer added, "The Harvest Hoopla Curriculum is a perfect example of how we can teach spiritual lessons through enjoyable and relatable experiences for kids. We believe that by integrating fun activities with important biblical teachings, children will be more engaged and better retain what they learn."

In addition to the Harvest Hoopla Curriculum, the Sunday School Store provides various other educational resources tailored to children's spiritual growth. Their offerings include free downloadable resources, a comprehensive 52-week curriculum, and specialized courses such as the Gospel Jesus Curriculum. They also provide print-and-teach Bible Lessons for Kids, which are convenient for substitute teachers or for covering specific Bible topics and scriptures in a structured format. Additional information on these offerings can be accessed through the curriculum bundles page.

The store caters to a global audience by offering services and products tailored to different regions and countries. This includes adjusting prices to local currencies and providing relevant content suited to each region. This global reach ensures that children worldwide have access to quality religious educational materials.

The Sunday School Store's commitment to providing high-quality educational resources is evident in their continuous release of new materials and innovative activities. The Harvest Hoopla Curriculum is the latest example of their dedication to fostering children's spiritual development through engaging and memorable learning experiences.

The Sunday School Store is accessible online, where they offer resources for children's ministry curriculum. Links to their latest products, such as the Harvest Hoopla Curriculum, and other resources are available on their website. Their social media presence on platforms like Facebook, Pinterest, and YouTube helps make their offerings easily accessible to a broad audience.
