Baltimore, MD - September 03, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Sobo Doggie Daycare has been acquired by new owners who are rebranding the business to The Canine Club. The new owners plan to renovate the building, giving it a fresh look with new kennels and outdoor turf for the dogs to enjoy. The Canine Club, based in Baltimore, Maryland, offers a variety of services designed for dogs and their owners. These services include dog daycare, dog boarding for overnight stays, and dog grooming.

Megan Padgett from The Canine Club shared her excitement about the acquisition and rebranding. "We are thrilled to continue providing top-tier care for our canine companions and their owners," said Padgett. "The new renovations will enhance the experience for the dogs, making it a more enjoyable and comfortable environment."

The Canine Club's dog daycare service provides a lively environment where dogs can play and socialize. The facility features spacious play areas and equipment to keep the dogs entertained. Supervised playtime ensures a safe and secure space for all dogs. Additionally, dogs can enjoy cozy nap times to rest and recharge between activities.

The sleepover service at The Canine Club offers a comfortable and fun-filled environment for overnight stays. With supervised care and attention, dogs are well cared for while their owners are away. This service is ideal for owners who need to travel and cannot take their dogs with them.

For grooming, The Canine Club offers various services to keep dogs looking and feeling their best. These include baths, nail trims, ear cleaning, tooth brushing, and blow drying. The groomers at The Canine Club are experienced and skilled, providing personalized care for each dog.

To keep owners connected, The Canine Club provides live webcams, allowing them to check in on their dogs during daycare. This feature is especially popular among owners who want to stay in the loop and never miss a moment of their dog's experience. The company's mission focuses on enhancing the lives of dogs and their owners through compassionate care, expert training, and quality grooming services.

"The renovations will not only improve the aesthetics of our facility but will also provide a better environment for the dogs to enjoy," added Padgett. "We are committed to creating a space where dogs feel safe, loved, and happy."

Along with the physical upgrades, the new owners will focus on training the staff to meet every dog's needs. The Canine Club prides itself on treating all dogs like family, providing a nurturing environment where dogs can have fun, socialize, and get plenty of exercise. The staff is well-trained and professional, ensuring that every dog receives the utmost care during their stay.

The Canine Club encourages dog owners to visit its social media page, @TheCanineClubMD, for updates and more information about the services offered. The company aims to build a community where dog owners can connect, share experiences, and stay informed about the best ways to care for their pets.
