August 21, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - August 21, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Sunday School Store has announced the launch of a new Easter curriculum for children called "Heroes of Holy Week." This program was created to help children understand the importance of Easter through Bible stories, activities, and crafts.

The "Heroes of Holy Week" curriculum brings together lessons about key figures from the Passion Week, like Jesus, Peter, and Mary Magdalene. It includes ready-to-use lesson plans, interactive activities, and various multimedia resources. These materials are designed to teach children about the events leading up to and including Easter Sunday. The aim is to give kids a deeper understanding of the Easter story and its meaning within the Christian faith.

The Sunday School Store is committed to offering valuable resources for Sunday school teachers and children's ministry leaders. They provide a comprehensive 52-week curriculum, free downloads, special seasonal materials, and more. The company takes pride in creating easy-to-teach lesson plans that can work in different settings, from small churches to home ministries.

Tony Kummer, founder of The Sunday School Store, said, "We wanted to create something that would help children connect with the Easter story in a meaningful way. 'Heroes of Holy Week' focuses on the individuals who played a key role in the events of Easter. By learning about these figures, children can see how God's plan unfolded and how it relates to their own lives."

Besides its new Easter curriculum, The Sunday School Store offers many other educational resources. The 52-week curriculum provides a full year of teaching plans. This curriculum features various lessons, activities, and resources to engage children and teach them about the Bible and Christian faith. Each lesson includes Bible stories, crafts, games, coloring pages, and songs, making learning both fun and meaningful.

The company also provides several free downloadable resources. These can be used to supplement the main curriculum or as stand-alone activities. These resources include lesson plans, activity sheets, and coloring pages, all designed to make teaching and learning enjoyable.

The Sunday School Store frequently releases new materials and resources. These updates might include fresh curriculum content, new lesson plans, and fun activities to keep children interested in their learning. For example, their Gospel Jesus curriculum focuses on teaching children about Jesus and the Gospel through lessons, activities, and resources.

The "Print & Teach Bible Lessons" are perfect for teachers needing ready-to-go materials for specific topics or substitute teaching situations. Each lesson includes video demonstrations, crafts, game ideas, word searches, coloring pages, and an easy-to-follow lesson plan.

For those seeking a more extensive teaching package, the company offers curriculum bundles tailored to different age groups and themes. For instance, the "Ultimate Toddler Bundle" includes everything needed to teach children aged 1-3 about God. These bundles are designed to provide a well-rounded educational experience for young learners.

The Sunday School Store serves a global audience by tailoring its offerings to specific countries and regions. This means adjusting prices to local currencies and providing content relevant to different cultural contexts.

Tony Kummer added, "The importance of Sunday school for kids cannot be overstated. It lays the foundation for their spiritual growth and understanding of Christian values. We strive to make this journey as engaging and enriching as possible with our materials."

The Sunday School Store continues to be a valuable resource for Sunday school teachers and children's ministry leaders. Their easy-to-teach lesson plans and comprehensive curriculum offerings make them a go-to source for religious educational materials.
