

Ministry-To-Children Launches Affordable 2024 Kids Church Curriculum Tailored for Smaller Congregations

August 22, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - August 22, 2024 -
Ministry-To-Children has launched a new, budget-friendly children's church curriculum for 2024. Designed with smaller churches in mind, this curriculum aims to provide an engaging and accessible way to teach faith to kids aged 6-12 years old. Developed by Tony Kummer, a former children's pastor and the founder of Ministry-To-Children, this curriculum offers a comprehensive set of resources.

The children's church curriculum includes lesson plans, coloring pages, children's sermons, worksheets, Bible crafts, and discussion questions. The content centers on several themes like "Heroes of Holy Week," "Fruit of the Spirit," "Love Like Jesus," "Bible Beach Club," and "Back To School." Each theme can adapt to different age groups and church settings, ensuring it fits various environments.

"Engaging children in faith-based activities matters," said Tony Kummer, founder of Ministry-To-Children. "Our goal is to offer a curriculum that's fun and spiritually enriching. We know smaller churches often have tight budgets, so we wanted to create something that meets their needs without cutting corners on quality or content."

The curriculum focuses on different learning styles and interests, making lessons engaging. By blending visual, auditory, and hands-on activities, the lessons include coloring pages, interactive discussions, and other engaging methods. This approach helps children connect with the material in ways that suit them.

Ministry-To-Children also emphasizes safety and accessibility. Teachers get instructional videos, tips on classroom management, and best practices for engaging students. The digital format allows for instant download, making it easy to print materials for classroom use.

"Our goal was to create a curriculum that educates and inspires," added Kummer. "We also wanted resources that parents could use at home to continue the faith journey. The pandemic showed us how important this home connection is."

Ministry-To-Children's new curriculum sticks to the organization's tradition of offering free, high-quality resources. Alongside the structured lesson plans, the platform offers other assets like free Kids' Bible Lessons PDFs, a 52-week curriculum for Sunday School, and various craft activities. These resources help churches build an engaging faith foundation for kids. Besides, free Easter coloring pages are also available, providing another creative avenue to make faith enjoyable during the holiday season.

The themes included in the curriculum offer flexible content adaptable to different contexts and schedules. For example, "Heroes of Holy Week" is perfect for the Easter season, while "Bible Beach Club" provides a fun approach for summer programs. Each theme breaks down into manageable lessons, making it easy for educators to plan their sessions.

Teachers can also find guidance on maintaining a safe and nurturing environment. The instructional videos and safety guidelines ensure lessons are both educational and follow high child care standards.

Ministry-To-Children aims to bridge the gap between limited church budgets and the need for engaging children's ministry resources. The launch of this new kids church curriculum highlights the company's commitment to supporting smaller congregations in their educational missions. By offering these tools for free, the platform ensures that financial constraints don't block faith-based education.

The new children's church curriculum for 2024 is now available for download on the Ministry-To-Children website.
