With over 25 years in the industry, Access Interiors has built a reputation for creating customized solutions that meet both practical needs and design preferences.

Access Interiors offers a wide range of services, from small touch-ups to large commercial projects. Their services include office refurbishments, office space planning, dilapidations, relocations, and movement management. They also provide specialized solutions like suspended ceilings, furniture, partition systems, flooring installation, mezzanine floors, electrical work, and air conditioning systems.

"Our goal has always been to offer high-quality office interior solutions that improve work environments while staying within budget and schedule," said Martin Dawson, CEO of Access Interiors Ltd. "We are thrilled to bring our services to businesses in Stevenage."

One important part of their work is office refurbishments. This means updating and modernizing office spaces to meet current standards for function and design. The team at Access Interiors works closely with clients to make sure the final result matches their vision and practical needs. Their detailed approach to office space planning considers workflow, communication, and future growth, ensuring the redesigned spaces are not just attractive but also efficient and productive.

Moving to a new office can be stressful, but Access Interiors' office relocation services aim to make this process easy. From planning and packing to transportation and setup, their team takes care of everything, minimizing disruptions to business operations.

Efficient movement management within offices is another focus of Access Interiors. This service includes planning, scheduling, and executing movements of both employees and equipment. It is especially useful for businesses going through major changes or relocations.

"Our dedication to providing high-quality services is clear from the high rate of repeat business we get," said Martin Dawson. "We are proud to offer solutions tailored to our clients' specific needs and workflows."

Access Interiors also manages large commercial interior projects. They oversee the design and construction of commercial spaces, coordinating with contractors, suppliers, and other parties to complete projects on time and within budget.
