Bonking Announces Launch of Their Bold & Edgy Clothes Line to Adventure Enthusiasts who Surf and Snowboard

September 05, 2024

Wilmington, North Carolina - September 05, 2024 -
Bonking is pleased to announce its Bold & Edgy apparel line launching on October 25, 2024. Aiming at the adventure sports market, Bonking offers high-performance and edgy fashion for surfing, snowboarding, skateboarding, and motocross enthusiasts.

Bonking® is known for its imaginative and durable designs. The brand's goal is to inspire a sense of adventure and enable people to face different elements with confidence and style.

"We are excited about the launch of Bonking," said Adrian Willis, CEO of Bonking. "Our goal is to offer clothing that not only stands up to the rigors of extreme sports but also reflects the bold, unfiltered spirit of our community. We believe our brand will resonate with those who live for the thrill and freedom of the great outdoors."

Bonking® focuses on fearless innovation, authenticity, and community. The brand constantly pushes the boundaries of fashion and technology to handle extreme conditions. This approach ensures that each piece of clothing is stylish and built to last.

Bonking celebrates the raw passion of adventure sports through their products. Their lineup includes gear that is both functional and fashionable, combining toughness with individuality. From Bonking Surf Clothes to snowboarding gear, each item is made with the athlete's experience in mind.

"The Bonking brand is all about embracing the thrill and independence that sports like surfing and skateboarding offer," Willis added. "We want our customers to feel part of a larger community of adventurers, and our clothing is designed to enhance their experiences while keeping a cutting-edge style." Our tagline is

"Be Bold Go Bonking"

Community is another essential part of Bonking's philosophy. The brand sees itself as part of a global group of thrill-seekers. This sense of belonging is something Bonking takes pride in. Through its clothing, Bonking aims to foster inclusivity and support within the adventure sports community.

The brand's visual style is bold and unconventional, mirroring the raw beauty of nature and the excitement of adventure. Bonking's products are made to stand out, featuring unique patterns and vibrant colors that match the energy of the sports they represent.

The launch will include a series of events and promotions to introduce Bonking to the national clothing industry and consumers. These events will highlight the unique features of Bonking's clothing line, showing how they cater to the needs of athletes and enthusiasts alike.
