Alpha Therapeutics LLC has added a new product to its lineup: the Extra Strength CBD oil. This oil is specially formulated by doctors to help people who need relief from pain and anxiety. It's available for purchase at $125.00 and comes with a 100% money-back guarantee and free shipping.

The launch of the Extra Strength CBD oil is part of Alpha Therapeutics' ongoing effort to offer high-quality and reliable CBD products. The company already sells a range of CBD items, including topicals and sleep aids. They developed this new oil to meet customer demand for a stronger option to address more severe symptoms. It complements their existing Regular Strength Oil, which is priced at $89.00.

A key feature of Alpha Therapeutics LLC's products is their careful formulation, overseen by medical professionals. This ensures that all products, including the new Extra Strength CBD oil, meet strict quality and safety standards.

Geoff Dada, a representative from Alpha Therapeutics LLC, spoke about the new product: "Our goal has always been to provide our customers with the most effective CBD products available. The introduction of the Extra Strength CBD oil allows us to better meet the needs of individuals who require a higher potency solution. We are confident that this new product will make a significant difference for those looking for stronger relief."

Besides the new Extra Strength CBD oil, Alpha Therapeutics LLC offers several topical products aimed at relieving joint and muscle pain. These include the Healing Balm and the Pain Stick, both selling for $65.00 each. These topical solutions are designed to provide relief directly to the affected areas, offering another option for managing pain.

The company also addresses sleep problems with its product called Calm Sleep. This is designed to help users sleep better without the grogginess that often comes with sleep aids. Calm Sleep is priced at $59.00 and aims to provide a restful night's sleep through the natural benefits of CBD.

To make it easier for customers to try multiple products, Alpha Therapeutics LLC provides bundle deals that offer savings when buying product combinations. Although specific bundle prices are not listed, these deals offer a cost-effective way to try various items. Available bundles include combinations such as the Extra Strength CBD and Healing Balm and the Extra Strength CBD and Pain Stick.

The wide range of products offered by Alpha Therapeutics LLC shows the company's dedication to supporting the overall well-being of its customers. They offer items that cater to various needs such as pain relief, anxiety reduction, and improved sleep. This reinforces their reputation for reliability and effectiveness.

Geoff Dada added: "We understand that each individual's needs are unique, which is why we have developed a diverse range of products. The addition of the Extra Strength CBD oil is a testament to our commitment to continually improve and expand our offerings based on customer feedback and emerging research."

All of Alpha Therapeutics LLC's products are made in Scottsdale, AZ. The company ensures that each item undergoes strict quality control to meet high standards.
