September 26, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

GreenMountain GreenWalls has just introduced a new lineup of preserved moss art installations that add a unique touch of nature to indoor spaces. This new product range aims to bring the benefits of plant art to a larger audience, offering a visually pleasing and sustainable decor option for both homes and offices.

GreenMountain GreenWalls creates their pieces using sustainably sourced moss, which needs very little upkeep and lasts a long time. These installations are crafted to improve indoor air quality and provide a calming visual experience. They fit seamlessly into various interior designs. The moss is treated to keep its natural feel and vibrant color, looking lifelike without the need for water, sunlight, or frequent care.

"GreenMountain GreenWalls is committed to promoting sustainability and wellness through our products," said Andrew Lawrence, a company representative. "Our preserved moss art installations not only beautify spaces but also contribute to creating a healthier indoor atmosphere. We believe that everyone should have access to the benefits of nature in their living and working environments."

The new moss art installations come in different styles, sizes, and configurations, making it easy for individuals and businesses to find something that fits their decor. Options range from elegant frames to custom murals and full wall installations. This flexibility lets customers pick designs that match their interior themes and personal tastes.

In addition, the preserved moss art from GreenMountain GreenWalls is customizable. Customers can specify the size and design to fit their unique needs. This level of customization is great for corporate settings too, where companies can include their branding in the moss art. For instance, businesses can have their logos or other brand elements incorporated into the artwork, creating a visually appealing and cohesive look in their office spaces.

"Our preserved moss art pieces offer a unique and low-maintenance solution for adding greenery to indoor environments," said Lawrence. "They are perfect for anyone looking to introduce a bit of nature into their space without the upkeep that living plants require. The versatility and ease of care make them an excellent choice for busy professionals and anyone looking to create a serene and inviting atmosphere."

GreenMountain GreenWalls shows its commitment to sustainability through its choice of materials and business practices. The moss is responsibly sourced to minimize its impact on natural ecosystems. The company also uses eco-friendly packaging materials to reduce its environmental footprint. Beyond their products, they also support reforestation projects and other environmental causes, striving to give back to the planet.
