

Knowledge Train Launches New PRINCE2 Online Website in London

September 30, 2024

LONDON, UK - September 30, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Knowledge Train, a leading management training company based in the UK, has announced the launch of its new website, prince2-online.co.uk, on 30th September 2024 in London. This new online platform is designed to provide professionals with comprehensive information about PRINCE2, the world's most popular project management methodology. The website aims to offer fresh perspectives on PRINCE2, including how-to guides on applying the methodology, the latest updates on PRINCE2 version 7, and comparisons with the PMBOK Guide. This resource is especially valuable for professionals seeking to gain PRINCE2 certification at either Foundation or Practitioner levels, or looking to gain PDUs towards their PMI Project Management Professional credential.

"The launch of prince2-online.co.uk marks a significant step in our mission to make high-quality project management training accessible to a wider audience," said Simon Buehring, Managing Director of Knowledge Train. "With this new platform, professionals can learn about the latest developments in PRINCE2 and gain the necessary skills to excel in their projects. Our goal is to create a centralised hub where users can find all the information they need about PRINCE2 in one convenient location." This initiative reflects Knowledge Train's ongoing commitment to enhancing the knowledge and capabilities of project management professionals across the globe.

The prince2-online.co.uk website offers a wealth of resources for project managers, including detailed explanations of the PRINCE2 methodology and its practical applications. Visitors to the site can also access PRINCE2 Foundation and Practitioner training courses, available as both face-to-face classroom sessions and self-paced online modules. Students who are unable to travel to a physical classroom can also choose to attend remotely using virtual classroom tools. To explore these training offerings and learn more about how PRINCE2 can benefit your projects, visit <https://www.prince2-online.co.uk/>. This new platform is poised to become an indispensable tool for professionals aiming to enhance their project management skills and credentials.

Simon Buehring, Managing Director of Knowledge Train, emphasized the importance of the new website in keeping up with the evolving landscape of project management, including the role of sustainability within project management. ?With the release of PRINCE2 version 7, there is a growing need for updated resources that reflect the latest best practices. The prince2-online.co.uk website addresses this need by providing up-to-date information and training options that are aligned with the latest standards,? Buehring added. The new site offers resources describing how PRINCE2 is in alignment with the PMBOK Guide further underscoring its value as a comprehensive resource for project management professionals.

The launch of the prince2-online.co.uk website is expected to have a significant impact on the professional development of project managers. By offering easy access to the latest training and resources, the platform is set to become a key player in the global project management community. As the demand for skilled project managers continues to grow, having a reliable and up-to-date resource like prince2-online.co.uk will be crucial for professionals looking to stay ahead of industry trends and advancements. This initiative is likely to drive greater adoption of PRINCE2, further solidifying its position as the leading project management methodology.
