January 27, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Sterling Works, a residential remodeling company in Atlanta, GA, is proud to announce the launch of their brand new website. The new site highlights various details about the company, what they do and how they approach their work. The kitchen and bath remodeling Atlanta company is very happy to see that the site is already proving to be very popular and is gathering a lot of traffic.

Philip Trapkin from Sterling Works says: "It really was time for us to join the 21st century and come up with a website that reflected the overall ethics of our company. We design kitchens and bathrooms, yet we had a website that was not reflective of our ideals. We really can't thank our team enough for what they have created. This is a site to be proud of and we're happy to see our customers like it too."

People are encouraged to read more about Sterling Works and get an idea of their capabilities and general work ethos. There is also extensive information on the website regarding the various bathroom and kitchen remodeling projects they have completed. Because of their twenty-year experience in all phases of remodeling, the company also takes on a few special projects each year, such as additions and custom homes, and details about these are also listed.

Now that the website is live, more customers will be able to enjoy beautiful kitchens and bathrooms, as well as requesting special projects if applicable. Full contact details are available on the website as well.
