October 01, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Richard's Paint recently donated paint to North Brevard Charities for the "Neighbor Helping Neighbor Project." The event gathered over 60 volunteers who worked to improve several homes in the community over a span of two days. Tasks included pressure washing, prepping and painting houses, and landscaping yards. The donation of high-quality primer and paint from Richard's Paint was essential in making the project a success.

Ron Hutton, Marketing Director of Richard's Paint, expressed his pleasure in supporting the cause. "We are delighted to support North Brevard Charities in their work to uplift the local community. Our products are designed to deliver excellent results, and we are happy they played a role in making these homes more beautiful and inviting," he said.

During the event, volunteers managed to pressure wash five houses, prep and paint three, and landscape another four. The improvements were clear right away. Photos of the transformed homes, showcasing the quality finish of Richard's Paint, are available on the North Brevard Charities website.

Organizers praised the effectiveness and ease of use of the gifted primer and paint. One resident was so pleased with the transformation that he proudly hung a "Home Sweet Home" sign on his freshly painted door. These upgrades did more than just enhance the look of the homes; they boosted the pride and morale of the residents as well.

Richard's Paint has a history of supporting community projects, aligning with its commitment to serve not just residential, commercial, and industrial markets, but also to promote community well-being. The "Neighbor Helping Neighbor Project" showcases how the company's contributions can make a big impact.

Richard's Paint offers a full range of products, including interior and exterior paints, primers, sealers, floor and deck coatings, stains, varnishes, and specialty items. Their digital color tools and color collections help customers make smart choices for their painting needs. Each product meets high standards for durability and looks, making any project they're used in better. For more information on their wide array of products including those for interior paint and exterior paint, please visit the company's website.

North Brevard Charities has served the community since 1958, providing aid to families and individuals in need. Funding from sources such as their Thrift Store, government grants, rental income from affordable housing, and donations from businesses like Richard's Paint help them fulfill their mission.

"Community support means a lot to us," said Hutton. "We believe in giving back and supporting projects that help improve people's lives. By contributing paint to North Brevard Charities, we saw a direct way to make a tangible difference."

Thanks to the ongoing support from businesses like Richard's Paint, projects like the "Neighbor Helping Neighbor Project" can continue. Although one house still needs finishing touches, there is enough paint left to complete the work, making sure every resident benefits fully.

"We extend our deepest gratitude to Richard's Paint for their generous donation," said a representative from North Brevard Charities. "Their high-quality paint helped us bring new life to these homes. Thanks to their support, the neighborhoods involved no longer just look better; they feel better too."

The collaboration between Richard's Paint and North Brevard Charities shows the positive results that can happen when local businesses and community groups work together. The success of projects like the "Neighbor Helping Neighbor Project" sets a strong example of how businesses can support community well-being.
