

United Contracting & Roofing Expands Clarkesville Office to Serve Gainesville, GA with Top-Tier Roofer Services

October 02, 2024

October 02, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

United Contracting & Roofing has announced that it's expanding its services at the Clarkesville office. This move aims to make it easier for local residents and businesses to get high-quality roofing services. Already serving places like Northeast Georgia and parts of South Carolina, the company is growing its reach to better serve more customers.

The new Clarkesville office will offer a full range of roofing services for both commercial and residential buildings. These services include roof restoration, replacement, and repair for commercial roofs, aiming to extend their lifespan or completely replace them if needed. Residential services are equally thorough, offering repair and replacement options designed to meet homeowners' needs in Clarkesville.

Jeremy Perry, the CEO of United Contracting & Roofing, shared his thoughts about the expansion. He said, "By opening this new office in Clarkesville, we aim to bring our high standards of roofing services closer to our clients. We believe in the value of local presence and the improved efficiency it brings to our service delivery."

Additionally, the Clarkesville office will help clients with insurance claims, simplifying the complex process of filing claims for roof damage. This support helps residents and business owners get back to normal life faster after experiencing roofing issues.

A significant part of United Contracting & Roofing's service is the dedicated Project Manager assigned to every job site. This ensures that each project is managed with great attention to detail, providing clients with high-quality work and timely completion.

The company offers commercial metal roofing and TPO roofing services. Metal roofing is durable and energy-efficient, making it a smart long-term investment for businesses. TPO roofing, which stands for thermoplastic olefin, is a single-ply roofing membrane known for its flexibility and resistance to UV radiation, offering a cost-effective and energy-efficient solution.

"Our team is excited about the new opportunities this expansion brings," Perry added. "We are committed to maintaining the high-quality workmanship and customer service standards that our clients have come to expect from us."

United Contracting & Roofing has a strong reputation for reliability and quality in its service areas. They offer a free on-site visit and inspection, followed by a straightforward estimate. This transparent approach ensures clients understand what work is needed and the costs involved before any project starts.

For residents in Gainesville, GA, the company offers specialized services to meet local roofing needs. Known for its effectiveness and reliability, the Gainesville GA Roofer has become a trusted name in the community. Whether it's a small repair or a complex replacement, their services aim to ensure roofs in the Gainesville area are long-lasting and durable.

Gainesville residents can now easily access a wide range of roofing services by visiting the company's dedicated page. There, they can find detailed information and request quotes for specific needs.

The announcement of the Clarkesville office opening is another step in United Contracting & Roofing's mission to provide excellent roofing solutions and build lasting relationships with clients across different regions. This expansion solidifies the company's role as a trusted provider in the roofing industry.

For more information about United Contracting & Roofing and the services they offer, please visit their website.

###

For more information about United Contracting and Roofing - Clarkesville Office, contact the company here: United Contracting and Roofing - Clarkesville Office Jeremy Perry +17708290166 info@roofingunited.com 200 Ellison St Suite B, Clarkesville, GA 30523

United Contracting and Roofing - Clarkesville Office

United Contracting & Roofing is a local, family-owned and operated business in Georgia and South Carolina. Our focus is long-lasting relationships with our clients, as well as quality roof repair and roof replacement service.

Website: <http://roofingunited.com/>

Email: info@roofingunited.com

Phone: +17708290166

