Granite Pointe Eye Care Celebrates New Dry Eye Specialist: Heather Cooper

October 21, 2024

Roseville, California - October 21, 2024 -
Roseville, CA ? Granite Pointe Eye Care and Roseville Aesthetics, both located at 9221 Sierra College Blvd Ste 130, Roseville, CA 95661, are excited to introduce Heather Cooper, Master Esthetician, as the local expert in dry eye care. Heather, a graduate of the National Institute of Medical Aesthetics, brings years of advanced training in both dry eye treatments and aesthetic services, positioning her as a highly trained, dual specialist in the Roseville area. The same location now serves as a comprehensive center where patients can receive both eye care and aesthetic services tailored to their individual needs.

?We?re thrilled to have Heather join our team and lead the charge on dry eye treatment,? said Dr. Nathan Okomoto, O.D. ?Between her dry eye training and aesthetics background, Heather is a double threat, and fills a lot of critical needs that we have at our practice. Our team has always prided ourselves on how many services we offer patients, and thanks to Heather, our patients won?t have to go anywhere else for holistic, full-service care.?

Heather has the expertise to provide comprehensive, root-cause dry eye treatments that extend beyond traditional methods. Using advanced technologies like intense pulsed light (IPL) and radiofrequency (RF), she eliminates the source of dry eye instead of simply treating symptoms. And along the way, she can also provide patients with aesthetic benefits. Her holistic and personalized approach to treatment is what makes her so effective, because patients experience a long-term quality of life upgrade.

In addition to dry eye care, Heather?s expertise in aesthetic treatments complements her role at Roseville Aesthetics. Patients can benefit from numerous additional rejuvenating services including laser facials, facial toning, microneedling, and neurotoxin treatments like Botox and Xeomin.

She knows her way around the lab, as well as advanced optometric equipment. She uses cutting-edge devices, including IPL and RF, to deliver results that go beyond basic dry eye relief. IPL treatments work to reduce inflammation around the eyes, while RF stimulates collagen production, improving the overall health of the skin and eye area. These comprehensive treatments not only alleviate dry eye symptoms but also enhance the appearance of the skin, making Heather?s approach truly holistic.

?Her commitment to offering a complete patient experience is what sold us on her candidacy,? added Dr. Okomoto. ?She focuses heavily on patient communication and education; people walk out feeling like they know more and can make better decisions about their own health. It?s empowering, and aligns well with the patient-first approach we encourage at Granite Pointe Eye Care.

Granite Pointe Eye Care has long been a trusted name in the Roseville community, offering comprehensive eye care for over two decades. The practice?s extensive services cover everything from routine eye exams and corrective lenses to advanced treatments for conditions like myopia and dry eye syndrome. Heather Cooper?s inclusion will cut down patient wait times, increase the services they can offer, and provide more support to the existing staff.

Granite Pointe Eye Care and Roseville Aesthetics are both accepting new and existing patients. To make an appointment, patients should visit their website at https://granitepointeeyecare.com/ or give them a call at (916) 866 - 3980.
