October 30, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Acorn Tuckpointing & Masonry Restoration, a well-known name in masonry and tuckpointing in the Greater Chicago Area, is rolling out enhanced services, focusing on masonry repair and chimney repair. These new offerings aim to boost both the longevity and appearance of buildings. The company has been around since 1952, earning a reputation for high-quality work and reliable service.

The company provides a range of services, including tuckpointing, parapet wall repairs, lintel replacement, and waterproofing. They cater to a variety of clients?residential, commercial, industrial, and institutional. Acorn Tuckpointing & Masonry Restoration, a family-run business for three generations, combines old-school techniques with modern methods to tackle both aesthetic and structural issues.

Masonry repair is key to keeping buildings structurally sound. This kind of work involves fixing up stone and brick structures to ward off damage from the elements or age. Such repair work helps maintain both the look and the strength of a building. Chester, a representative from the company, shares, "At Acorn, our mission is to offer thorough masonry repair services that not only make a property look good but also help it last longer. We take pride in being a trusted name in the community and aim to deliver the best service possible."

Acorn Tuckpointing & Masonry Restoration also specializes in chimney repair services, handling everything from small repairs to complete reconstructions. The chimney repair process includes tasks like re-pointing, relining, and adding necessary structural supports. They focus on keeping chimneys safe, effective, and attractive. Chester further explains, "Chimney repair is essential for ensuring safety and efficiency. Our team is committed to providing top-notch repair jobs that meet safety standards and leave clients satisfied."

As a licensed and insured company, boasting an A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau, Acorn Tuckpointing & Masonry Restoration assures top quality in its work. The skilled tradesmen bring extensive experience to each project, tailoring their efforts to meet clients' specific needs.

One thing that sets this company apart is its focus on customer satisfaction. They offer free estimates and maintain open communication with clients during projects to keep them informed and assured about the work being done. Those interested can contact them at (708) 598-8790 or email chester@acorn-tuckpointing.net for more information or to arrange a service.
