

My Night Cream Site Launch Found To Be Successful

January 19, 2016

January 19, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

My Night Cream, a business in Coronado, CA, is proud to announce that they have launched a brand new website. This site is devoted to reviewing the best night time beauty facial products on the market. Their goal is to give an honest, unbiased opinion of the many products that are out there, empowering men and women alike to choose the products that are best for them. The site, which is already proving to be very popular, can be accessed through <http://www.mynightcream.com/>.

A spokesperson for My Night Cream says: "You cannot turn on your television or open a newspaper or magazine without being bombarded with advertisements for a variety of skin care products that all swear to be the best. They can't all be telling the truth. Thus, we have taken it upon ourselves to test them out and give you our honest opinion about them. We believe that the best product will vary depending on individual needs, and we hope that our information will help people find what will work best for them."

Although the idea started as a simple one, the business quickly discovered that there were just too many products out there to list altogether. Hence, during the construction of the website, they decided to make a number of categories, thereby better enabling people to find the information relevant to them. The current categories include acne, firming, hydrating, organic, peptides, retinol, skin spots, and wrinkles. It is also very much possible that more categories will be added in future.

"We knew there were a lot of products out there, but we hadn't expected there to be this many," adds the spokesperson. "We really have set ourselves a mammoth task. We will do our best to review everything, but we also encourage people to contact us if there is a product they would like us to review in particular. We want to work together to be a true knowledge base."

The site also includes a newsletter that people can sign up for. This will enable them to remain up to date with any new products that have been reviewed.
