January 25, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

London, England based company Younger Yu has announced a 25 percent discount for their 3 in 1 all natural mosquito repellent. As part of their clearance sale, the company has launched the discount and urges those interested to buy soon as their supply is running out quickly. Once the inventory is depleted, this particular product will no longer be available in its current packaging.

Deon Bryan, spokesperson for the company states, "This is a clearance sale on Amazon to make way for newly redesigned packaging." He explains that the mosquito repellent will continue be available but with a new and exciting look.

Younger Yu provides a number of natural products, including their 3 in 1 bug repellent, sun protection and moisturizer, which has been very popular on the Amazon marketplace since its initial launch.

"Those interested in buying at this discounted price will just need to use the coupon code HFWRECDZ at checkout to save $6.74," states Bryan. He explains that the company is offering the discount as a means of thanking their loyal customers for their support since the product's initial introduction, and he stresses that the same product will be available in the future. "Just the packaging is changing. The natural product will remain the same high quality that customers have grown to love," he points out.

Since it was first launched on Amazon, the 3 in 1 product has gained mass popularity. Deon says that this is because it is indeed all natural, as it contains no harsh chemicals that could be dangerous for children and pets. The company has redesigned the packaging to give the product a more streamlined look, which Deon says is the reason behind the clearance sale. While the product will still be readily available after the sale, it will be in a different packaging. He points out that in order to clean out inventory and make room for the newly designed packages, they decided to offer customers a significant discount over the regular pricing of the repellent.
