November 21, 2024 -
Groundhog Turf Care has just rolled out enhanced lawn care services customized for New Hampshire's unique climate. Operating out of Derry, the company focuses on helping homeowners keep their lawns looking lush and healthy throughout the growing season. This new offering underscores their commitment to providing comprehensive solutions for lawn care, including fertilization, grub control, weed management, and specialized turf care programs. More details about these services can be found on their website, groundhogturfcare.com.

Their Standard Turf Care Program is a thorough package that covers six visits, including eight treatment applications. It uses granular, nutrient-rich fertilizers to create a strong, healthy turf. This program is specially designed for New Hampshire's 30-week growing season, starting in April and wrapping up in November. For a more premium service, the Estate Turf Care Program adds fungicide applications and fall aeration and overseeding to the standard package.

"Groundhog Turf Care in New Hampshire is excited to offer these enhanced services tailored for lawns in New Hampshire. Our goal is to implement innovative and effective techniques to help homeowners achieve beautiful and thriving landscapes," said David Ciampa, a company representative.

Groundhog Turf Care prefers slow-release granular treatments over liquid fertilizers for long-lasting results. This approach not only maintains the effectiveness of each application but also means fewer treatments are needed, making it a more sustainable choice for customers.

Beyond their main offerings, Groundhog Turf Care also provides services like tree and shrub care, mosquito and tick control, and some special services such as irrigation and snow plowing. They use a targeted pest control method for trees and shrubs to minimize effects on beneficial insects. Their mosquito and tick control program aims to create a pest-free outdoor zone, enhancing the overall experience for customers.

The company has recently received a glowing five-star review on its Google Maps listing. Customer Nicholas Giuffrida praised the professionalism and expertise of a staff member named Andrew. This positive feedback not only highlights Groundhog Turf Care's dedication to quality but also strengthens its reputation as a trusted provider in the area.

"Our team takes great pride in delivering top-quality results and excellent customer service. Hearing such positive feedback from our clients inspires us to continuously improve and expand our services," added David Ciampa.

In the lawn care community, Groundhog Turf Care in New Hampshire is a well-known name. They service a wide area that includes Bedford, Exeter, Windham, Londonderry, Hudson, Salem, Pelham, Stratham, Hooksett, Derry, and Auburn. This broad reach ensures that homeowners throughout the region have access to expert lawn maintenance and care.

Rather than offering a wide range of services like mowing or mulching, Groundhog Turf Care focuses on diagnosing and solving specific pest and disease problems that can threaten outdoor spaces. They remain dedicated to using top-quality fertilizers and materials to provide long-lasting benefits for the properties they manage.

With the launch of these refined services, Groundhog Turf Care invites New Hampshire homeowners to explore their lawn care options and see the benefits of customized treatment plans. The company keeps active community engagement through a blog that shares valuable lawn care tips and industry news.

For more details on their services and to get in touch with Groundhog Turf Care for a consultation, people can visit their website groundhogturfcare.com or find them on various social media platforms. This move is part of an ongoing effort to maintain the beauty and health of landscapes across New Hampshire and to establish Groundhog Turf Care as a leading name in the industry.
