January 20, 2016 -

Southern-California based Team Driver Transport is offering team truck driving for emergency and expedited freight transportation. The company, founded by industry veteran Edward Saldivar, prides itself on being available 365 days a year at any hour and their team driver services allow their trucks to be on the road 24 hours a day.

Saldivar states, "We can provide companies with deliveries faster and more efficiently than other trucking companies due to our team truck driving services. When your company has a freight emergency and needs expedited service, a team of drivers is the way to go."

Each Team Driver Transport truck has two drivers, so downtime is all but eliminated. The second driver allows for loads to be carried constantly across the roadways, ensuring a more timely delivery of all shipments.

Team truck driving also ensures that their drivers and client cargo remains safe on the road, while still offering a faster delivery time than other companies. "Truckers have to adhere to certain driving rules for safety reasons," explains Saldivar. "Team driving allows a truck to be constantly moving forward so shipments are kept moving 24 hours a day, simply because the presence of two drivers means they can follow normal hours-on-the-road rules while keeping a shipment moving."

This can mean the difference in days with regards to delivery times. While one driver is resting as per driving rules, the other can be driving and vice-versa. This ensures that both drivers adhere to road rules while still moving freight to its final destination at all times.

Team Driver Transport provides businesses with a number of trucking and transport services including expedited freight, overnight trucking and more. The company also has special rates that are designed to help companies save money.

Companies that are interested in learning more about expedited shipments or those who would like a rate quote can visit the company on their official website at teamdrivertransport.com. Freight services run nationwide.
