Johnson Roofing & Restoration LLC, a certified 'Class A' contractor in Toledo, Ohio, is committed to offering a variety of roofing and restoration services. Since 2006, the company has been leading the way in solutions for residential, commercial, and multi-family housing needs. They're recognized for their broad range of services and dedication to delivering top-notch craftsmanship and customer care.

Residential clients can take advantage of Johnson Roofing Services, which specializes in both new roof installations and replacements. They offer a variety of materials, including Euroshield® Roofing, a popular eco-friendly option. Mark Johnson, a company representative, stated, "Our residential offerings are crafted to meet the needs of our clients, both in quality and budget. We strive to provide the very best products available to ensure lasting satisfaction." More information on their residential roofing services can be found on their website.

For commercial properties, the company focuses on durability and compliance with building regulations. Their external restoration services manage every detail to exceed client expectations, utilizing materials like metal, asphalt shingles, and concrete tile in both their residential and commercial projects. Learn more about their commercial roofing solutions and commitment to quality craftsmanship by exploring resources available online.

Johnson Roofing & Restoration is ready to handle hail and weather damage repairs swiftly, addressing urgent needs after severe weather. Their prompt and efficient work helps limit damage and cut down on repair costs over the long term. They also provide insurance claim support, assisting customers with paperwork and communicating with insurance companies, which can simplify a potentially complex and time-consuming process for property owners. Detailed information on their insurance claim support process is accessible through their service offerings page.

The company also specializes in new construction projects, with a team skilled in using various roofing materials to ensure each installation meets high industry standards. Their reliable track record stands as a testament to their strong presence in important construction projects. To understand their comprehensive approach to new construction roofing, you can visit their website and explore the section dedicated to these services.

Mark Johnson shared further, "Our services extend beyond just installation. We ensure that our clients feel supported through every phase, including inspections and insurance claims. Our involvement doesn't end with the finished product; we are here for our customers throughout their journey." Their extensive exterior restoration services highlight their commitment to excellence, detailed on their website.

Euroshield® Roofing is a notable part of their offerings. This rubber roofing system is not only friendly to the environment but also long-lasting and visually appealing. It gives homeowners a sustainable choice without sacrificing quality or convenience. More details about the benefits and features of Euroshield® Roofing can be found online for those interested in eco-friendly roofing options.

For those worried about costs, the company provides flexible financing solutions.
