

Designers Jewelry Online Announces New Website Launch

January 19, 2016

January 19, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

New York City based Designers Jewelry Online has announced the official launch of their new website. The site offers general information about jewelry as well as information about specific pieces.

John Belcher, spokesperson for the jewelry company states, "We are pleased to announce that our new website is up and running. We've been working on it for some time now, and are glad to finally get to share it with the world."

Belcher states that the site, which can be found at www.designersjewelryonline.com, will be filled with "useful information for general jewelry enthusiasts." He says that categories are available for rings, bands, and other jewelry pieces. "It's just a collaboration of information that we hope will help consumers to make wise and informed decisions about the jewelry that they purchase in the future," he explains.

On the site is a history of jewelry in general as well as specific pieces. Wedding bands, engagement rings, and various other jewelry pieces are discussed in depth, giving readers a lot of information about the jewelry that they can purchase and wear.

In addition to jewelry types, various gemstones such as diamonds, opals, and many others and metals are also discussed. Included are tips on how to choose the right metal as well as the right gemstone and what gemstones hold the most significance for various purposes.

Those interested in connecting with the online jewelry site can add them on Google+ at <https://plus.google.com/115740955220467015201/about> and learn more about the site and the information that they provide.

Belcher states that comments from readers are always welcome on the new site and that they hope consumers will feel comfortable enough to ask questions and share their experiences. Jewelry pieces from top designers, including many unique and rare pieces, are discussed and images are included so that readers can get an idea of what the jewelry looks like.

The site currently has a number of informative posts, with more coming soon according to Belcher. Those interested in connecting with Designers Jewelry Online or in learning more about a specific piece of designer jewelry may also connect with the company on Twitter at <https://twitter.com/designersjewels>.
