

Unlock Unbeatable Black Friday Savings on Sunday School Curriculum at The Sunday School Store

December 03, 2024

Sellersburg, Indiana - December 03, 2024 -
The Sunday School Store is excited to share a special offer for those passionate about children's ministry and church leadership. They're rolling out the Black Friday Children's Ministry Deal, offering a curriculum bundle worth $3,375 for just $97, but only for a short time. This initiative is a way to help smaller churches gain access to valuable and comprehensive educational materials while saving a lot of money. For more details, visit their main website at sundayschool.store.

Tony Kummer, a spokesperson for The Sunday School Store, sees this deal as a big chance for churches to improve their children's ministry resources without spending too much. "Our goal is to help small churches afford and access educational resources easily. This offer demonstrates our dedication to the spiritual growth of kids through engaging and effective sunday school lessons," Kummer explains.

This curriculum bundle features over 46 units with colorful and straightforward lessons aimed at children aged 6-12. You'll find printable coloring pages, crafts, object lessons, discussion questions, and prayer guides, all designed for volunteers with different levels of teaching experience. What's great about the curriculum is its flexibility, as it can be used with any Bible translation, making it appealing and accessible to a wider audience.

They also offer unique bundles like the "Ultimate Toddler Bundle" and a specialized Gospel Jesus Curriculum, which are perfect for those looking to cater to specific age groups or enhance teachings about Jesus and the Gospel.

Plus, there's more to the Black Friday Children's Ministry Deal. It also includes early access to six brand-new curriculum units set for 2025. Whether you're starting a program from scratch or expanding an existing one, the week-by-week teaching schedule provided in this bundle is a fantastic resource. By incorporating new materials, educators can keep their lessons fresh and exciting for young learners.

Adding a bit of fun to the event, The Sunday School Store is hosting a guessing game. Participants can try to guess the number of M&M's in a jar for a chance to win a $100 gift card to Hobby Lobby. This playful contest adds joy and community involvement to the Black Friday celebration.

The company is also expanding its reach to connect with a global audience. This includes adjusting content for different cultural backgrounds and setting prices in local currencies. As technology brings us closer, The Sunday School Store aims to ensure its curriculum can benefit children around the world.

"We're not just about providing top-notch educational resources, but we also focus on creating a supportive community around children's ministry," Kummer shares. "Our newsroom keeps everyone up-to-date with the latest news and offers insights into our projects. It's a great way to stay informed about what we're working on and what's coming next."

This Black Friday event is an important moment for The Sunday School Store, as it highlights their commitment to aiding small churches with high-quality and affordable educational materials. The goal is to give church communities the chance to enrich their teaching materials and engage kids with fun Bible lessons.

Church leaders and educators who want to take advantage of the Black Friday Children's Ministry Deal can visit The Sunday School Store's website at sundayschool.store for more information. The offer encourages teachers to explore new ways to inspire young minds and support their faith journeys.

The Sunday School Store continues to play a vital role in providing valuable and relevant sunday school lessons. Through offers like these, they reinforce their promise to support the spiritual and educational development of children in various regions and communities.
