Act Right Electrical, an electrician service provider in Coolum Beach, Queensland, Australia, has announced that they have been recognized for their level of customer service. They are setting a new standard for the Sunshine Coast thanks to their professionalism and enthusiasm. For this company, customer satisfaction is the top priority and this is something residents in the area are being very appreciative of. Customers now believe that they provide the best electrician Sunshine Coast has to offer.

Dan Ritchie from Act Right Electrical says: "We set ourselves apart through our unprecedented customer service and free quotes and because we guarantee to be on time. Specializing in all domestic, commercial and air conditioning electrical work, we are your one stop Electrical Contracting Service."

The company offers one of the best commercial, air conditioning and domestic electrician Sunshine Coast services. Regardless of who their client is or the kind of job they are required to complete, they offer the same high standards of customer service across the board. Their motto is to be quality electricians whom customers can trust, and they take this very seriously.

The business also wants to make sure people are able to get the best value out of their electricity and their appliances. As such, they frequently release news items as a service to help people to achieve this. Just recently, they provided people with hints and tips on how they can reduce their electricity bills.

The services offered have been very positively reviewed by their many customers. "I thought domestic electricians only did a bit of wiring, but Act Right Electrical has proven me wrong," says Brian S. "They were able to handle my custom rewiring during my home's renovation with the greatest ease, even though I had some pretty complex devices in my home. Most importantly to me, they showed up on time, gave me a fantastic service and left my property in a clean state. I 100% recommend these guys to anyone who has any electrical situation in their home or business."

The company is now known as a provider of the best air conditioning electrician Sunshine Coast has to offer and their reputation is starting to precede them.
