Now Plus, an Essex, England based estate management company, has announced that they are celebrating the fact they have more than 25 years of experience in the industry. The company believes that providing residential, commercial, and industrial clients with a wide range of groundwork services for the last 25 years is a significant milestone.

James Martin, founder and owner of Now Plus states, "We are pleased to announce our 25th year anniversary of providing quality groundworks services for those in and around London."

The groundworks contractor London based company offers a full suite of services including drainage solutions and hard and soft landscaping services. "Our ethos is to solve issues for our customers efficiently and economically," states James Martin. The firm acts as consultants for customers, helping them to achieve short term and long term solutions for a number of issues. Martin states that they pride themselves in their experience, specialists' equipment, and a number of activities that allow the company to be competitive without being overly costly. He also states that they can provide a full suite of solutions, eliminating the need to hire equipment or subcontractors, which in turn helps their customers to save money.
