January 22, 2016

January 22, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

OD Accountants AE, a business in Bethnal Green, London, United Kingdom, has announced that they have developed a range of new services to help employers to comply with the new workplace pension law. Additionally, they provide services to help businesses educate their employees about the benefits of auto enrollment in the UK. The main question they aim to answer is 'what is auto enrolment?'

Niall O'Driscoll from OD Accountants AE says: "It is important to remember that all employers have to comply with auto enrollment. However, to be compliant, employers have to follow 14 different steps. That is why we are here to help them achieve that and also to make sure that their employees understand what the benefits are of taking part in the workplace pension scheme."

The auto enrolment accountants have released a video to explain the 14 different steps of compliance. They have also explained how the workplace pension works, and the fact that organizations who do not comply will be fined, with fines starting at 400 GBP. The company's goal is to make sure their clients don't have to worry about compliance anymore.

The services offered by OD Accountants AE have been very well-received by their many clients, who explain how they have been able to greatly reduce their stress through auto enrollment. This is because they are assured that they are fully compliant with the law at all times and make the necessary contributions payments into the pension schemes. "Extremely pleased with the level of help and support I received from Niall over the past 10 months," says one happy client. "He has been prompt and very professional in his dealings with me and has guided us step by step towards our business acquisition. Would recommend his services as he has great knowledge and understanding in this field. Will be continuing to use his services for the future. Many thanks Niall."

People are encouraged to visit the accountant's website for further information on workplace pension scheme auto enrollment and on how the business can help. Niall O'Driscoll or one of his team members will be happy to provide a call back for further information.
