Coventry, UK - December 26, 2024 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Strongway Gym Supplies has introduced a new Olympic Bumper Weight Plates Set to their lineup, aimed at enhancing the home fitness experience. Strongway is well-known for providing quality gym equipment, and these new sets are no exception. Designed for both seasoned athletes and fitness enthusiasts, the focus is on durability and functionality. Crafted from virgin rubber, these plates not only protect floors but also reduce noise during workouts.

Mandip Walia, co-director at Strongway Gym Supplies, shared his excitement about the new range. "These bumper plates are a fantastic addition to our offerings. We understand how important it is for our customers to have reliable and long-lasting equipment. This new range provides that, ensuring both safety and effectiveness for home gym users," Walia stated.

These bumper plates are built to fit into any home gym setup seamlessly. They are compatible with various Olympic bars and equipment. Available in weight configurations from 50KG to 150KG, they allow users to adjust their workouts to meet their fitness goals. Each plate has a stainless steel inner ring for a secure connection, ensuring consistent lifts every time. Strongway Gym Supplies also offers a vast array of related fitness equipment, which can be found on their website.

The mission of Strongway Gym Supplies is to offer high-quality, affordable fitness solutions to everyone. Readers can find their products on the company's website at <https://strongway.co.uk/collections/strongway-olympic-weight-plates>, where the bumper plates section and a variety of other products are easy to explore and purchase. Fitness seekers interested in buying home gym equipment are encouraged to visit the website where promotional offers are published from time to time with free delivery on orders within mainland UK and discounts of up to 75%, depending on the product.

Randeep Walia, another co-director, spoke about the importance of offering this product. "In a world where fitness habits are shifting towards more personalized spaces, providing reliable home gym solutions is our top priority. Bumper plates are increasingly sought after for both their versatility and their role in safe, effective exercising," noted Walia.

Strongway Gym Supplies' success is evident, not only from their wide range of products but also from the positive customer feedback. According to a recent Google review, "Strongway Gym Supplies has never disappointed?quality products and prompt service every time." Another customer commented, "The new bumper plates are a perfect fit for my home setup. They're durable and worth every penny."
