Denver's TNS Associates P.C. Expands to Offer Expert Elder Law Services

December 26, 2024

DENVER, CO - December 26, 2024 -
TNS Associates P.C. has just launched a new branch of its legal services focused on elder law. This move underlines the firm's ongoing commitment to offering specialized legal support tailored for seniors and their families. Since 1983, this Denver-based firm has been known for its reliable legal advice. Now, it broadens its offerings to include estate planning, guardianship, and planning for long-term care.

Elder law addresses the complex challenges that come with aging, like health care management and qualifying for benefits. Considering that many people over 65 will need long-term care, TNS Associates P.C. is stepping up to deliver reliable and expert assistance in these areas. The main goal is to ensure that older adults and their families receive the guidance they need to make smart decisions about the future.

Michelle Bern, a spokesperson for the firm, highlights their focus on elder law. She shares, "Our team is dedicated to understanding the distinct challenges older adults and their families encounter. With this expansion, we aim to provide comprehensive support, whether it's through planning for incapacity or navigating healthcare and legal rights."

Figuring out when should you hire an elder law attorney can be crucial for families facing intricate decisions. Some situations may include estate planning troubles, hurdles in applying for Medicare or Medicaid, the need to draft a power of attorney, or concerns over guardianship. Knowing these circumstances helps frame when professional legal help is needed.

In addition to elder law, TNS Associates P.C. has a strong reputation for a wide range of other legal services such as Corporate and General Business, Criminal Law, Elder Law, Employment Law, Estate Planning, Family Law, Nonprofit Corporation, Personal Injury, Probate Administration and Litigation, Real Estate & Transactional Law, and Tax Law. They've been assisting with corporate and business law, criminal defense, family law, and more for over 30 years. Their team of seasoned attorneys and paralegals is committed to providing personalized legal strategies tailored to individual needs and situations. More about their diverse services can be explored at tnslaw.com.

The launch of elder law services further showcases this dedication, directing attention to critical areas for seniors. The firm offers free consultations, so potential clients can figure out their needs and see how TNS Associates P.C.'s elder law services might help. This is part of the firm's broader mission to make essential legal advice accessible and actionable for those preparing for the later stages of life.

"Legal matters faced by seniors need a sensitive and strategic understanding," notes Bern. "Our aim with the elder law services is not just to provide solutions, but also to give clients peace of mind by safeguarding their rights and futures."

TNS Associates P.C. understands how vital these services are, particularly as navigating elder care becomes more complicated due to changing policies in law and healthcare. By crafting robust legal strategies, they hope to simplify the process and empower clients with the knowledge and protection they need.
