

Xtreme Exteriors Nixa MO Celebrated as Top Siding Company in Midwest Honors

January 20, 2025

NIXA, MO - January 20, 2025 -

Xtreme Exteriors, a family-owned business based in the Midwest, is thrilled to be honored by Ozark Communities Best Magazine. They've been named the Top Siding Company and placed among the top three for Top Window Company. This recognition highlights their leadership in the industry. Xtreme Exteriors is well-known for their excellent work in siding installation. Being the largest James Hardie Elite Preferred Installer in the Midwest and an Owens Corning Preferred Contractor further showcases their commitment to high standards and quality work. They have achieved these accolades through dedication to excellent craftsmanship and serving their community.

Stephen Spallo, COO of Xtreme Exteriors, stressed the importance of this recognition. "These honors are a testament to the hard work and dedication of our entire team. Our focus has always been on delivering quality service without high-pressure tactics, ensuring all our clients receive the best possible results. We're proud to be recognized by the community we serve."

The company operates in several locations, including Nixa, MO; Sikeston, MO; Shawnee, KS; Rogers, AR; Pittsburg, KS; and Goodlettsville, TN, where they offer a wide range of services. From installing and repairing decking, siding, and roofing to taking care of exterior windows and storm damage inspections, their diverse offerings meet many needs. Each project is carefully managed, with a project manager making sure everything is done right. They also emphasize customer satisfaction by holding off on final payments until the customer is happy, which highlights their customer-first approach.

Hunter Lampe, the CEO, shared more about what drives the company. "Our commitment is simple ? to use the highest-quality materials that are backed by the finest certifications and warranties. It's not just about completing projects; it's about ensuring our clients have peace of mind with their investments in their homes."

These honors reflect the company's ongoing dedication to providing top-notch siding services and exceptional window installation services. With a team of highly skilled professionals who offer fair pricing and steer clear of aggressive sales tactics, Xtreme Exteriors stands out as a leader in the field. Their reputation, built on strong principles and genuine community ties, makes them a trusted name.

This recognition not only celebrates Xtreme Exteriors' past achievements but also brightens their future as a major player in exterior home services. They are eager to take on new opportunities and developments in the industry while holding onto their key values of quality and customer satisfaction.

To experience their comprehensive range of services firsthand, clients can view a variety of materials like James Hardie siding and explore design possibilities with their siding visualizer tool by visiting their showroom or contacting them online. Xtreme Exteriors, known for fair pricing and fully insured services, enables clients to meet project requirements with ease, backed by years of industry knowledge. Their showrooms, located in each of their operation areas, let customers explore their offerings in person, supported by top-tier service. Stephen Spallo adds, "Our goal is to make every client feel confident and secure in their choice. We handle every aspect so they don't need to track down multiple contractors. We provide a seamless experience from start to finish."
