

American Cornhole Organization Unveils Exciting ACO Skins Cornhole Format for Fans

January 09, 2025

Symmes Township, Ohio - January 09, 2025 -

The American Cornhole Organization has some exciting news for cornhole fans: they're rolling out a new gaming format called ACO Skins Cornhole. This format takes inspiration from the skins game in golf, allowing players to compete for cash prizes on each frame of the game. It's designed to give players more ways to strategize and adds an extra competitive element.

In ACO Skins Cornhole, there are 13 Skins in each game. A frame, which is a set of four bag tosses per player, accounts for one Skin. Players earn a Skin through typical cornhole scoring, and if there's a tie, the Skin carries over to the next frame. Players can agree on monetary stakes or other prizes, making the game even more thrilling. The first player to win seven Skins claims all of their opponent's Skins, ending the game. This rule means players can win anywhere from 7 to 13 Skins in total.

Michael "Fin" Walter, the Loudmouth of the ACO, says, "ACO Skins Cornhole brings an extra layer of excitement and strategy to the traditional game. It provides players with more incentive to play aggressively and offers chances for both underdogs and seasoned players to make thrilling comebacks."

Besides ramping up the excitement, this style of play adds financial rewards frame-by-frame. By narrowing point differences, it balances the competition and opens the door for surprises and upset victories. The ACO's introduction of Skins Cornhole showcases their ongoing effort to innovate and advance the sport of cornhole.
