

Powerful Prep Now Providing SAT and ACT prep program in Orange County, California

January 19, 2016

January 19, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Powerful Prep is a company based in Orange County that helps the residents of Southern California with SAT and ACT preparation. The company is now providing various packages to its clients.

Powerful Prep is a company based in Orange County, California and they have just announced their new SAT, ACT and PSAT preparation program. The company has been tutoring students since 2009 and has published all the test results since then. According to the website, the company is proud to be the only test prep company out there that publishes past results for the potential students to see.

Powerful Prep states themselves to be a results-oriented program with all of the instructors being Ivy League grads, Mensa Members and 99.9% scorers. The spokesperson for Powerful Prep made a press statement in which he discussed the new program "Here at Powerful Prep, we are a results-oriented prep company and work on a very effective curriculum that helps students focus on the important areas, without having to struggle with excess study material. Our new program has three packages: the one-on-one program with private tutoring, group tutoring and online tutoring."

He further spoke about the company's past work "Powerful Prep was established in 2009 by an Ivy League grad with 99th percentile SAT scores. He focused on creating a program that didn't waste the students' time, but instead was concise and effective. After working hard, he finally started Powerful Prep and started catering to clients in Orange County. Unlike other test prep companies, Powerful Prep has never been reluctant on publishing results because we believe in transparency when it comes to our business."

More details about the prep program can be seen on <https://www.powerfulprep.com/>.

###

For more information about powerful prep, contact the company here: powerful prep

powerful prep