January 19, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SEO Expert London is an online marketing firm which has been serving clients in London. The company is now open to new clients and is operating in two new locations.

After working with a select group of clients since 2014, SEO Expert London is now open for business with new clients. According to the company spokesperson, the firm has been very successful since its launch and is now able to handle a bigger number of clients swiftly and efficiently.

The company is a family-run online marketing and SEO firm which offers services like SEO, web design, social media marketing, reputation management, video marketing and more. Based just outside of Essex, London, the company is now providing their services in London, Essex and Brighton. The spokesperson for SEO Expert London made an official press statement after the company gave a green signal for new customers. In his statement, he spoke about the company's growth and the new locations.

"Here at SEO Expert London, we have professionals with more than 5 years worth of experience, all belonging to the same family. They started out the company in September 2014 and since then, they have only gone forward. While previously working with only a few clients on regular terms, the company is now dealing with new clients from all around London, Essex and Brighton," stated the spokesperson.

He further added "Previously, we were only operational in London and offering our services to only a select few clients because of our firm's capacity. We have grown tremendously in just a few months and are now offering our services to new clients not only in London, but in Essex and Brighton too."
