

SEO Client Consulting Agency GRBrown.net Announces New Special Offer

January 19, 2016

January 19, 2016 -

GRBrown.net is an SEO consulting company that claims to be the #1 in Albuquerque. The company has now announced a special offer for their clients to kickstart the new year.

Based in Albuquerque, New Mexico, GRBrown.net is a SEO client consulting agency that is currently catering to clients in New Mexico and all of the Southwestern States. The company is a small business that has decided to stay small despite many opportunities to expand their business over the years. GRBrown.net is comprised of four highly experienced personnel who claim to be running a company that has a special connection with all of their clients.

"We decided that in order to offer the personal attention that we are known for giving, we needed to stay a small business. We didn't want to become an SEO agency that didn't know each and every one of our clients intimately," states the company bio.

The company has now announced a special offer for their new clients in order invigorate the public and involve the clients in something exciting and advantageous at the same time. GRBrown.net is now running a special offer till 15th March, 2016. Any new client hiring their services within that period is bound to get 50% off on their first payment.

The spokesperson for GRBrown.net made a press statement in which he discussed the company's mission statement and talked about the new offer "Here at GRBrown.net, our only goal is to give each and every client the special treatment they deserve. We want to know all our clients up close and give them a service that is fully customized to their needs."

He further added about the offer "We are now running a very exciting offer till 15th March, 2015. Any new clients that sign up for our services within this period will get a whopping 50% discount on their first payment. This could save the clients anywhere from $250 to $2500, based on their project."
