Caledon, Canada - Rebates Zone is a website that works hard to provide working coupon codes for its users. The site tests their coupon codes daily to guarantee that all the coupons found on its site affords monetary savings for different orders. They have coupon codes for thousands of online stores. Rebates Zone allows members to save up to 30% off their order in various stores. Additionally the website provides free shipping coupon codes for some stores.

As the new year begins, Rebates Zone has released on their blog a handy guide for 2016. They have showcased a New Year Gift Guide that explores top new year gift ideas. Some of the gift ideas include backpacks, Macbook sleeve, travel pillows, cell phone pocket, guided journal and other items. Of importance, the guide highlighted the Fun Chalk window markers which are sold on Amazon.

Rebates Zone portrayed how usually when using chalk, users would get their hands all white and messy. However the window markers from Fun Chalk provide a new and better way to make markings on surfaces.

The chalk markers can write on blackboards, whiteboards, windows and mirrors. The markers are capable of writing on any non-porous surface.

Rebates Zone mentioned how easy it was to cleanup after using the window markers. The user simply has to take a wet cloth and wipe the markings off the corresponding surface. According to Rebates Zone, the window markers are both non-toxic and environmentally friendly which makes them ideal to be used with children.

According to Fun Chalk, the window markers also have other safety features. They are xylene free, odor free and dust free which makes them further eco-friendly tools. The company states that the window markers conform to all the international standards for toy testing. The chalk markers apply to all the requirements in the American Society for Testing and Materials and the European Standard for Toy Safety Testing.

The window markers which have a unique reversible tip are sold exclusively on Amazon at an affordable price. The customer can order in confidence because each purchase is backed by a 100% money back guarantee.
