Every area rug carries its own story, from the artisan's original handiwork to the marks and character developed over time. Atiyeh Bros. recognizes these stories and has fine-tuned their cleaning methods to respect them. People in Tigard, Portland, and Eugene can choose a cleaning method that fits their rug's specific needs, like hand washing, full submersion, or advanced Quadra jet system techniques. Each option is carefully chosen based on the rug's materials, age, and condition, aiming for the best possible outcome.

"We've always been committed to delivering solutions that honor the artistry and value of each rug," says an

Atiyeh Bros representative. "Our recent improvements to the area rug cleaning service highlight our dedication to customer satisfaction and caring for the environment."

Their services go beyond just cleaning. They tackle tough stains and odors, such as those from pet accidents or mold. After a thorough pre-inspection, their technicians customize the cleaning to solve specific problems. Offering upfront estimates for odor treatments adds transparency and reassurance for customers.

Atiyeh Bros. is proud of their environmentally friendly practices. They use a water-based, neutral soap solution that is safe for people, pets, and the planet. Employing ARCS-trained technicians further shows their commitment to leading sustainable rug care in the industry.

Besides area rug cleaning, Atiyeh Bros. also cleans carpets and upholstery, and offers protective treatments using Fiber ProTector®. This product helps prevent stains, bacterial growth, and UV fading, providing extra protection for busy areas.

"Our clients deserve solutions that both restore and protect their investments," remarks the company's spokesperson. "Fiber ProTector® allows us to prolong the life and beauty of their rugs and carpets."

To make things convenient, Atiyeh Bros. offers a 15% discount for customers who handle their own drop-off and pickup, with free pickup and delivery in Portland and Eugene offered too. For those outside these zones, the service is available for a small fee. Their easy online tools let customers request quotes or sign up for updates and promotions, showing their commitment to value and accessibility.
