Caledon, Canada - Valentine?s Day is the day that people try to show their love and affection for significant others. The day is generally spent with loved ones giving endearing notes and exchanging gifts. The usual types of gifts include chocolate, candy and flowers. One company is ensuring that loved ones can now receive unique gifts for Valentine?s Day. Fun Chalk has released a set of chalk markers that is created for making fun and creative markings almost anywhere.

For Valentine?s Day the user can decorate sections of the house and leave messages for loved ones. The window markers are very versatile and can be used on various surfaces. The user may choose to incorporate a greeting on the bathroom mirror or the mirror above the cabinet. They may even decide to write flirtatious messages or short poems. The chalk markers are suitable to create art on chalkboards for viewing by others around the house.

The window markers will leave clear distinct markings on the surfaces. According to Fun Chalk, the chalk markers are manufactured with sharply defined unique reversible tips. They have a 6mm tip size that is sure to produce well defined markings on mirrors. This is helped by the markers having a fluorescent color that stands out against any background.

According to a company representative from Fun Chalk, ?Our window markers can produce creative markings on any non-porous surface that will allow users to leave fun messages for their Valentine. Customers can choose from a selection of eight different colors that leave distinguishable neon markings. They will find the chalk markers an ideal gift to get the love flowing this Valentine?s Day.?

According to Fun Chalk, the window markers are made with premium ink. The colorful markings once produced, form clearly discernible writings. The chalk markers ink will not drip, smudge or fade. The writings can stay solidly available for anyone to view. Additionally the markings are easy to clean-up after use. Customers simply utilize a wet cloth and wipe and erase with ease.

The customer for Valentine?s Day doesn?t have to use the window markers to make chalkboard writings or write on mirrors. The user can get creative and write on windows, blackboards and bistro boards. The chalk markers can be used in making beautiful cards and arts projects specific to Valentine?s Day such as baskets and artificial flowers.

The window markers from Fun Chalk is made exclusively available on Amazon at a reasonable price. The customer can save 10% on qualifying items from Gold Star Selections when they buy two eight packs of chalk markers. They simply enter the code SS3F6NAB at checkout on the online shopping portal.
