A spokesperson from Fun Chalk remarked, ?We are happy that our product has gained such interest with online shoppers. We greatly value customer care and guarantee that our products always represent a high standard in the industry. Our Liquid Chalk Markers are considered safe to use with children and are eco-friendly.?

Apart from being a safe product for children the company has attested that the window markers are non-toxic, xylene free, odor free and dust free. This is a plus for parents and caregivers because that means the chalk pens can be used with children who suffer from allergies and asthma.

One five star reviewer Rachelle Huff stated, ?They are awesome! I have the most fun writing messages to my kids on their bathroom mirror. They're fun on the car windows also. Very easy clean up with water. I couldn't believe how easily it washed off.?

Another five star reviewer remarked about the fun experienced over the recent holidays. She said ?I visited my sister over Christmas and knew that her grandchildren would be there so I took these with me and we had a lot of fun with them. We drew pictures on the sliding glass doors and on all the mirrors in the house. The kids thought it was great.?

The Fun Chalk Window Markers are sold exclusively on the Amazon online marketplace with an access to free shipping if 3 or more of the product is bought. All purchases are backed by a 100% money back guarantee.
