Caledon, Canada - Gold Star Selections have released a product called Fun Chalk Liquid Chalk Markers on the giant shopping portal Amazon. The chalk markers are outlined by Fun Chalk as a fun way to write notes to a significant other for Valentine?s Day. The chalk markers are sold in eight bold colors including white.

Recently Fun Chalk showcased some possible designs on their Instagram page that were done using the chalk markers. They exemplified the possibilities of utilizing chalk markers to produce creative art work for a loved one for Valentine?s Day.

For example, Fun Chalk used a design on a blackboard to highlight a person?s appreciation for their loved one. A heart was drawn on the blackboard outlined in pink. The heart was colored in pink, purple and orange bold colors. To make it more appealing the artist experimented with adding water to the pen strokes to create an effect similar to watercolor paints.

To add further excitement to the piece, an endearing notation was written around the border of the heart. It read, ?I love you from the bottom to the top of my heart.? This showed how the window markers were versatile in creating pieces that attracted the viewer. It also clearly showcased the ability of the chalk pens to write lovely messages in well-defined fluorescent patterns.

A company representative from Fun Chalk commented that, ?our window markers can leave endearing notes and messages for loved ones on Valentine?s Day. Can you imagine if your loved one saw a message saying ?I love you? in the bathroom mirror or on the mirror of the bedroom cabinet? That would do so much to brighten the start of their day.?

The message doesn?t only have to say the traditional ?I love you.? Lovers can get creative and send notes that require an answer or that states a poetic message. They can even turn the note into a game highlighting for a search to where a gift is hidden. These unique methods of showing love for Valentine?s Day are sure to be exciting for the recipient.

The window markers from Gold Star Selections are sold exclusively for online shoppers on Amazon at an attractive rate. Those customers who purchase three chalk pens can access a 15% saving on qualifying items offered by Gold Star Selections. The purchaser can afford this discount by entering the code VWZA5A5Z at checkout.
