January 25, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Paleo On The Go, a food delivery company in Largo, FL, is proud to announce that they have been nominated for the 'Best Paleo Company (Food)' award this year. They were the winners of the 'Best Meal Delivery Service' award in both 2013 and 2014 and hope to win again for 2015. The company is the only company that carries Paleo Mom's Autoimmune Protocol meals, which their customers love.

Dave Rohde from Paleo On The Go says: "We have won the prestigious award the past two years and hope to win it again. We are dedicated to the health of our customers by offering them delicious Paleo meals, including some that include further specific dietary requirements. We are also committed to frequently adding new meals to our menu."

The company cooks in a dedicated gluten free kitchen. They have also just launched the 30 Day Paleo Diet-Autoimmune Protocol Meal Plan Challenge, designed for those who want to try the diet for 30 days and experience the benefits that it offers. This plan has had quite a lot of uptake already and the company is proud of having a hand in changing the world to Paleo, one diet at a time.

Votes can now be cast online through the Paleo Magazine Best of 2015 page. People are encouraged to do so, and to give Paleo On The Go a try as well. They offer a huge variety of different meals and meal plans, all of which are delivered straight to their customers' door.

The Paleo Mom Autoimmune Protocol Meals are also proving to be incredibly popular. "The AIP diet follows specific guidelines for people struggling with autoimmune conditions and the food sensitivities and inflammation associated with them," adds Dave Rohde. "All of our meals are prepared with our consumers' health as top priority. Instead of merely eliminating foods, the autoimmune protocol encourages you to eat more nutrient dense, real foods that better support healing your body. If you find that your current diet isn't addressing all of your health concerns, adding our new AIP items might be a good place to start."
