Price Keever from The Bluffs at Round Mountain says: "Relax within a high-elevation setting, offering the biggest oak trees and best panoramic views ever. Plus, enjoy a prime location just a short drive from Houston. Don't miss out."

People will also be able to apply for finance, as bank and Texas Vet financing will be available. Keever says this means that the property and ground are incredibly affordable and very easy to obtain. Those who are interested can contact The Bluffs for further information either online or via telephone, or by attending the event. It is believed that the properties at The Bluffs at Round Mountain will sell very quickly, due to their inherent beauty and affordability.

The homesites that are on offer include between five and seven acres of Hill Country land. Owners will also be able to enjoy the 30 mile panoramic views.
