Wilmington, North Carolina - February 19, 2025 -
Osprey Roofing Company, a woman-owned and family-operated business in Wilmington, North Carolina, is making a name for itself in the roofing world by focusing on quality and know-how. This roofing company is a trusted choice in New Hanover and Brunswick Counties, providing solid roofing solutions and sticking to top-notch service standards.

Known for its wide-ranging services, the company caters to both homes and multi-family buildings. They offer precise estimates, retail roofing options, and fast storm damage repairs. Composite shingle roofing is one of their specialties, known for its long-lasting durability.

Kelly Vaughn, representing Osprey Roofing Company, shares, "Our dedication to quality and honesty never falters. As a woman-owned and family-run business, we work hard to form lasting connections with our clients. We want to offer more than just a roof; we want to give our clients peace of mind, knowing their homes are safe with the best materials and workmanship."

The roofing company recently became a GAF "Certified Plus" vendor as well as receiving a Certainteed Shinglemaster Roofing Contractor certification in Wilmington, North Carolina. This achievement underscores their commitment to delivering excellent roofing services and maintaining high standards of work. This certification boosts Osprey Roofing Company's credibility and dependability in the roofing business.

Osprey Roofing Company doesn't just stop at roofing installations and repairs. They are also focused on sustainability and community engagement. The company takes part in local events and hosts workshops to spread the word about sustainable building methods. By merging modern techniques with traditional skills, they improve energy efficiency and lessen the environmental impact of roofing materials.

Moreover, the company is dedicated to continuous training and skill development for its team. This focus ensures their workers are knowledgeable about the latest roofing innovations and techniques, providing customers with solutions that last the test of time and weather.

Osprey Roofing Company is committed to transparent pricing and clear communication, ensuring clients fully understand their roofing projects. This approach has led to a strong reputation in New Hanover and Brunswick communities for providing honest and quality service.

"Our status as GAF 'Certified Plus' shows our team's commitment to excellence," Kelly Vaughn says. "Every roof we handle reflects our dedication to quality and honesty. We're proud to work alongside our clients, offering them roofing solutions that are both innovative and eco-friendly."

The company offers extensive warranties, including a 50-year guarantee on materials and a 4-year warranty on workmanship. Clients can rest easy knowing their roofing investments are protected. Osprey Roofing Company's focus on building long-lasting client relationships highlights their commitment to not just meet but exceed customer expectations on every project.

Overall, Osprey Roofing Company aims to redefine industry standards with its quality roofing solutions. They remain loyal to the communities they serve, providing dependable and superior roofing services, from storm repairs to exterior design options.
