Chicago Clinic Expands Mental Health Care with Intravenous Ketamine Therapy and New Treatments

February 26, 2025

CHICAGO, IL - February 26, 2025 -
IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago has announced new services that expand their mental health care offerings. Known for their intravenous ketamine therapy, which has become a key treatment for issues like depression, anxiety, and PTSD, the clinic is now adding Stellate Ganglion Block (SGB) and NAD+ Therapy. These additions aim to enhance patient care and provide alternative mental health solutions.

The clinic has been helping patients with conditions including chronic pain and fibromyalgia. Stellate Ganglion Block (SGB) provides a fresh approach to treating PTSD through a neck injection that blocks nerve signals causing symptoms. NAD+ Therapy, on the other hand, is designed to boost cognitive functions such as clarity and concentration by delivering a coenzyme right into the bloodstream.

Dr. Bal Nandra, Medical Director at the clinic, stated, "At IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago, we are dedicated to enhancing our patients' lives with cutting-edge therapies. With these new options, more individuals can access clinically proven therapies tailored to their needs."

To integrate these treatments effectively, IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago collaborates with mental health professionals to develop personalized care plans. They are committed to improving each patient's mental health and making treatments accessible, regardless of income. The clinic has teamed up with CareCredit to provide financial assistance, helping to offset costs for those who need it.

Incorporating a media story about their fibromyalgia management solutions highlights the clinic's efforts to raise awareness about their services. Dr. Nandra added, "Financial hurdles should never block access to the necessary care our patients require. Our CareCredit partnership is part of our mission to remove obstacles in obtaining health solutions."

People dealing with anxiety, chronic pain, treatment-resistant depression, fibromyalgia, OCD, and PTSD can explore the treatments and resources available at the clinic's website. This includes details on what treatment involves, FAQs, patient testimonials, and new patient forms. The center also maintains an active online presence, offering more resources on their Instagram and YouTube platforms, which helps create a strong support system for patients. Their clinically proven therapy for chronic pain offers significant relief for those struggling with chronic conditions. This aligns with their goal to tailor treatment plans to each patient's unique health requirements.

As IV Solution & Ketamine Centers of Chicago strengthens its position in mental health treatment, the clinic focuses on patient care advancements and raising public awareness. By offering more varied treatment options, they solidify their role as a proactive force in mental health care.
