With ReNew Reglazing's expertise and dedication to quality, clients can enjoy beautifully transformed bathrooms with minimal disruption to their daily lives.

Dylan Baker, a representative of ReNew Reglazing, shared the excitement about the new branch, saying, "We are thrilled to establish a presence in Albany. Our team looks forward to providing the local community with top-notch reglazing services. We believe our expertise will greatly benefit the area, giving clients a valuable and budget-friendly solution to their bathroom restoration needs."

ReNew Reglazing offers services like standard bathtub reglazing, which suits non-fiberglass bathtubs. The process includes thorough cleaning, applying protective sheeting, and using high-quality epoxy fillers for repairing cracks and chips. Then, a primer and topcoat are applied to ensure an even, durable finish. Every job ends with a final inspection to make sure the surface is perfect. More information about their standard reglazing process can be found by visiting the services section on their website.

For fiberglass bathtubs, the company provides tailored services that meet the specific needs of those materials. Many clients have praised ReNew Reglazing for its quick and efficient work, as well as the improved look and feel of their bathrooms after service.

With a solid 4.7 rating from 79 customer reviews, ReNew Reglazing is recognized for its effective, satisfying results. Clients appreciate the non-disruptive process and the longevity of the outcomes. The Albany location aims to build on this strong reputation by bringing trusted services to more people.

Aside from their expertise, the company is committed to helping clients maintain their newly reglazed bathtubs by offering post-service care instructions. This comprehensive approach, from start to finish, shows ReNew Reglazing's dedication to professionalism and customer satisfaction.

Baker added, "Expanding to Albany allows us to bring our high standards and attention to detail to an even wider audience. We are dedicated to crafting beautiful bathroom transformations and providing the best possible customer experience."
