February 26, 2025 -
ReNew Reglazing has just set up shop in Cary, NC, and they're bringing their top-notch bathtub reglazing services to local homeowners and property managers. This new location in Cary will offer the same high-quality services that have already become popular in the Capital Region. Using their tried-and-true methods and dedication to quality, ReNew Reglazing is ready to deliver impressive results to everyone in the area.

ReNew Reglazing is all about giving old, worn-out bathtubs a fresh, new look. They work with various types of tubs, offering solutions that fit each unique situation. Known for a process that's quick and with little disruption, the Cary team is geared up to bring this expertise to locals. Their use of advanced coatings and skilled workmanship aligns with their goal to provide top-notch alternatives to expensive replacements, all while keeping costs down.

Dylan Baker, a spokesperson for ReNew Reglazing, expressed the company's excitement about the move to Cary. "We are excited to bring our services to Cary, providing residents with expert solutions for their bathtub restoration needs. Our experienced team is dedicated to delivering the highest level of service, ensuring customer satisfaction every step of the way."

ReNew Reglazing takes pride in their detailed bathtub reglazing service. It starts with a thorough inspection. Each tub gets a deep clean, and protective sheeting is used to safeguard the area. Cracks and chips are fixed with epoxy, after which the surface is smoothed out. A specially-formulated primer is applied before the topcoat and glaze, ensuring a perfect finish. A careful final inspection ensures the job is done right, helping ReNew Reglazing stand out as a leader in the field.

For those with fiberglass tubs, the company adapts its process to keep the quality and integrity of the material intact. Their skill in handling different materials is a big reason why so many clients have good things to say about them.

As the tools of the trade evolve, so does ReNew Reglazing's method. They invest in training their team and acquiring top-grade materials to maintain their high standards. Having found success and achieved customer satisfaction in Albany, the new Cary team aims to replicate that level of trust and quality service in their new community.

Cary residents can look forward to joining a long list of happy customers. The service consistently earns a 4.7 out of 5 rating from past clients, based on 79 reviews praising their reliability and work quality. ReNew Reglazing is well-positioned to make a positive impact in the local bathtub reglazing scene. Their comprehensive instructions for post-service care further add value by helping clients maintain their reglazed tubs for the long haul.

Besides their standard and fiberglass services, ReNew Reglazing offers next-day services for those who need a quick job done. This flexibility shows their awareness of and commitment to meeting the pressing needs of their clients.
