

Go Industries Rolls Out Innovative Mud Flaps for Dually Trucks to Boost Vehicle Protection

February 20, 2025

Richardson, TX - February 20, 2025 -
Go Industries Inc., a leading name in the truck accessory and custom manufacturing sector, has launched a new series of mud flaps designed for dually trucks. Mud flaps are crucial for protecting vehicles, and this latest offering promises to keep trucks and their immediate environment safe.

This fresh lineup includes mud flaps for a range of trucks, especially those from Chevrolet, Ford, and GMC. Notably, the Ram dually mud flaps from Go Industries are made to handle the tough tasks heavy-duty trucks with dual rear wheels face. These mud flaps are designed to deflect debris such as mud, rocks, and sand, which helps prevent damage to the truck's paint and reduces risks for other vehicles on the road.

"With these mud flaps, Go Industries continues its mission to offer top-notch protective gear for dually trucks," said a representative from Go Industries. "We use non-recycled rubber in our products to ensure they're durable and reliable, no matter the conditions. We know the everyday challenges truck operators deal with, and we want to address those with real solutions."

Customers interested in the new line will find options ranging from the Classic Dually Set to specialized models like the Stainless Steel and Diamond Tread sets. These options allow truck owners to personalize their vehicles based on what they need and prefer. Every mud flap set is made to fit various truck models, guaranteeing a snug fit regardless of the truck's make and year.

Besides focusing on quality and flexibility, Go Industries emphasizes accessibility for its customers. The company provides an easy way to choose the right mud flaps on its website, with options for customizing orders. The mud flaps are shipped directly and come with necessary items like brackets and mounting choices.

"We aim to provide our customers with high-quality products that merge functionality and innovation. These mud flaps reflect our ongoing promise to meet our clients' unique demands," the Go Industries representative added.

Beyond truck accessories, Go Industries serves the law enforcement community by offering specialized gear that boosts vehicle safety and performance. Their custom manufacturing services also let customers order unique products designed to meet specific project needs. Further information on their specialized law enforcement equipment can be accessed via their website.

Since 1978, this Texas-based company has consistently kept up with industry standards and innovations, as demonstrated by achieving Platinum Status with SEMA. This recognition underscores Go Industries' commitment to quality service and products, catering to a wide range of vehicular needs, both professional and personal.

Truck enthusiasts and fleet managers can check out Go Industries' extensive catalog, which features easy-to-follow guides, useful resources, and various accessory options. The introduction of these mud flaps for dually trucks strengthens the company's standing for delivering high-performance accessories that improve vehicle longevity and function. Visit their website for their full product catalog and detailed specifications.

Go Industries is dedicated to delivering premium products, helping to enhance and protect vehicles throughout the country. As changes continue in the automotive industry, the company pledges consistent quality and service, further affirming its position as a reliable provider in the market.
