

Bakersfield Roofing Company Releases Information On Solar Power Installations

January 27, 2016

January 27, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

BSW Roofing and Solar, a business based in Bakersfield, CA, has released a video that explains why it is better for a roofing company to install solar panels on a roof. The videos have been created by BSW Roofing and Solar owner Ernie Montoya, and they were produced and edited by MobcastMedia.com. The new information highlights the fact that when it comes to solar panels Bakersfield residents are now increasingly turning to professional roofing companies for help.

Ernie Montoya himself says: "97% of all solar failures are roof leaks because the solar companies don't flash the roofs properly, or they walk away leaving broken tiles underneath the solar array. Once they penetrate the roofing materials, the material warranty is gone and so is the labor warranty. When we put it on, we can guarantee the labor and the materials and the solar."

For the people in Bakersfield solar power is starting to become increasingly popular. As one of the best methods of sustainable electricity generation, with one of the highest returns on investment, it is no surprise that people are beginning to realize its value. However, BSW Roofing and Solar believes that this has led to an increase in the number of companies that have trained and educated themselves on solar arrays only, and have not had any focus on roofing itself. As a result, installations are often poorly completed, with devastating consequences for home owners.

"We are different because the buck stops here," adds Ernie Montoya. "We take responsibility for all our work, so if there are any problems, the client comes back to us. As we are first and foremost professional roofers, who have then trained in solar photovoltaic power generation as well, we feel we are uniquely qualified to deliver on this type of work. And we stand by our quality at all times."

In terms of solar power Bakersfield is an ideal location to generate this type of electricity. It is almost always sunny, with only the occasional splash of rain, and days are long with plenty of light. As a result, it is an opportunity for people to make a real difference to the future of the planet, but only if done properly.

###

For more information about BSW Roofing and Solar, contact the company here: BSW Roofing and Solar Ernie Montoya (661) 327-7663 bswroofing@gmail.com 4 P St. Bakersfield, CA 93304

BSW Roofing and Solar

BSW Roofing & Solar is the oldest roofing contractor in the San Joaquin valley of California, founded in 1942 by Ernest E. Montoya. BSW Roofing & Solar specializes in the water proofing of residential and commercial properties.

Website: <http://www.bswroofing.com>

Email: bswroofing@gmail.com

Phone: (661) 327-7663

Powered by PressAdvantage.com