

Go Industries Inc. Unveils Revolutionary Truck Grille Guards for Heavy-Duty Protection

March 07, 2025

Richardson, TX - March 07, 2025 -

Go Industries Inc. has just announced a new addition to its lineup of truck accessories: the Winch-Style Grille Guard. This new product is designed for heavy-duty trucks, including models like the Chevrolet C4500-6500, Ford F650-F750, and the International CV515. Its primary purpose is to provide strong protection while allowing easy access to the vehicle's hood, meeting the needs of truck owners who prioritize both efficiency and safety.

One of the standout features of the Winch-Style Grille Guard is that it doesn't require any cutting or drilling for installation. This convenience, combined with its tilt body configuration that pivots forward, makes it much easier to access the hood for maintenance tasks. The grille guard is versatile, available in styles that come with or without a winch. For those who need it, the winch tray can support up to a 16,500-pound winch from most popular brands, which is especially useful for those who use their trucks in tough environments.

Go Industries details the specific construction choices behind this grille guard. The headlight brush guards are made from sturdy 1.9-inch, 14-gauge tubing, with 2.5-inch center cross tubes to ensure strong defense against external forces. The grille guard also features a center screen laser-cut from 18-gauge material. Finished with a black textured powder coat, it not only protects but also adds a sleek look to the truck.

"Our goal has always been to deliver products that enhance trucks in terms of function and safety," said a representative from Go Industries. "The new Winch-Style Grille Guard is a testament to our dedication to providing robust protection and easy access when needed, without sacrificing the integrity and quality that our customers count on."

This product is proudly made in the U.S., staying true to the company's dedication to high American manufacturing standards. This ensures that each product performs reliably, meeting the demands of heavy-duty trucks. Since its founding in 1978 in Richardson, Texas, Go Industries has solidified its status as a key player in the automotive accessory market.

Go Industries serves a wide range of customers, from individual truck owners to law enforcement agencies, and offers custom manufacturing services through their website. Their product range includes useful accessories like skid plates that protect vehicle undersides from rough terrains. With the introduction of the new Winch-Style Grille Guard, they expand their offerings, providing even more functional and protective solutions.

Customers are supported from the point of purchase, with easy access to detailed product instructions and a comprehensive catalog available on the Go Industries website. Their strong reputation for quality is further recognized by their Platinum Status with SEMA, highlighting their commitment to excellence in the industry.

"Our aim is always to expand our product line, making sure that every customer finds exactly what they're looking for, whether it's a truck accessory, a law enforcement enhancement, or a custom-built component," the spokesperson added.

For those interested in the Middle Duty Grille Guards, more information is available online, including detailed specifications so customers can find the perfect fit and features for their vehicles. Clear pricing and compatibility details aid in making informed buying choices.

As Go Industries continues to grow, its focus remains on delivering practical, durable, and innovative solutions for truck users.
