It is known to be very difficult to find someone who can really do good voice overs and translations. Dimitry Rozental from Russian Voice Over Services has over 20 years of experience and wants to emphasize that he is able to offer competitive rates. Perhaps most importantly, he is also very flexible and will always accommodate his clients' needs.

Rosetta Stone, one of the world's biggest language services providers, has reviewed the services offered by Russian Voice Over Services. They said, "Dimitry has an excellent vocal range and always adds his own, unique personality to everything he records. Our last project wouldn't have been the same if it wasn't for him. I'm glad that we could work together and will definitely work with him on our next project."

Interested parties can describe the job they want to be done online and will receive a message back as soon as possible. This can all be done through the company's website at <http://therussianvoiceover.com/contact/>. The company has dealt with some of the world's biggest companies, each of which has been very happy with the work completed. One of these clients is Apple, which had the following to say about the service: "At first we thought that it would take two or three people to do the job but Dimitry managed to do it all by himself. His mind-bending voice range and ability to capture the spirit of the script knocked us off our feet. Sounds like too much flattery, but top shelf quality is what you get with Dimitry."

Similar reviews have been left by industry giants, including Pfizer, Siemens and the Hudson News.

Russian Voice Over Services encourages everyone to like them on Facebook through <https://www.facebook.com/theRussianVoiceOver/>. This will give them an opportunity to communicate directly
