Fort Worth, TX?Kalos Medical Spa, a physician-led medical spa in Fort Worth, TX, is pleased to announce that it is now offering an advanced virtual AI simulator for injectable fillers and wrinkle relaxers through a partnership with Entity Med. This innovative tool is available through the Kalos Medical Spa website, giving patients who are considering injectable treatments an interactive way to visualize potential outcomes before committing to a cosmetic treatment plan.

?We are thrilled to offer our patients access to this cutting-edge AI simulator,? said Dr. Emily Kirby, Board-Certified Plastic Surgeon and Medical Director of Kalos Medical Spa. ?This technology makes it possible to see personalized, approximate outcomes before scheduling a consultation, offering insight that helps our patients feel empowered and strengthens the dialogue we have around their aesthetic objectives and treatment expectations.?

The technology, provided by Entity Med, leverages sophisticated facial mapping, data analytics, and predictive modeling to show users a clinically acceptable preview of the results they might achieve with injectable dermal fillers, injectable wrinkle relaxers, and skin resurfacing treatments like laser or microneedling. By offering this resource, Kalos Medical Spa is enhancing its commitment to helping patients understand how medical spa services could address their unique aesthetic concerns.

?For example, many patients are curious how filler may be used to soften their tear trough lines below the eyes,? explained Dr. Kirby. ?The tool allows you to isolate this concern and preview how your entire appearance changes as those areas are smoothed out. Similarly, the tool can show you how you would appear after using wrinkle relaxers, which we call ?tox,? to smooth the forehead lines and frown lines between the eyebrows, as well as skin resurfacing treatments to smooth fine lines and discoloration.?

Kalos Medical Spa?s medical injectors and aestheticians work with each patient to understand their goals before choosing the best product(s) for each treatment. They offer several different types of wrinkle relaxers, including Botox®, Dysport®, and Daxxify®. The injectors also offer a wide range of FDA-approved dermal filler formulas from the brand names Restylane®, Juvéderm®, Revance RHA®, and Sculptra®. These treatments are versatile solutions for facial fine lines and wrinkles, volume loss in areas like the cheeks and temples, and small lips.

For skin resurfacing, the practice provides several laser treatment options, microneedling with and without radiofrequency (RF) skin tightening, and chemical peels; these treatments help to diminish pigmentation irregularities, smooth fine lines, and create a more even complexion overall.

Kalos Medical Spa has long been dedicated to delivering exceptional care and innovative solutions in the medical aesthetics field. As a board-certified plastic surgeon-led practice, Kalos is committed to helping patients achieve their cosmetic goals through the safest and most effective treatments available.

?We are always seeking ways to use technology to bridge the gap between expectation and reality in cosmetic medicine,? added Dr. Kirby. ?While our goal has always been to keep patients fully informed, this AI simulator takes the consultation to a new level. When patients can envision possible outcomes with such clarity, they become more involved in their own treatment planning. It?s truly collaborative?and that?s a big part of achieving natural-looking, satisfying results.?

Kalos Medical Spa is located at 5075 Edwards Ranch Rd, Fort Worth, TX 76109. To learn more about the newly available AI simulator or to schedule a consultation, please visit the practice website or call 817-292-4200.
