

Northwest Plumbing Celebrates 100 Years with Furnace Repair Specials

April 07, 2025

DAVENPORT, Iowa - April 07, 2025 -

Northwest Plumbing, Heating & AC, a well-established service provider in Davenport, Iowa, is celebrating its 100th year in business by concentrating on furnace repair and installation services as the winter season approaches. Since 1923, they have been serving the Quad Cities, ensuring homes stay warm and comfortable in colder months. In addition to their heating services, they offer a wide range of plumbing services all year round, including water heater repairs, drain cleaning, and fixing leaks. More information about their comprehensive plumbing services can be found by visiting their plumbing service page.

To mark their centenary, Northwest Plumbing, Heating & AC is offering a "Deal of the Month" special. Customers who mention "Happy Birthday" while discussing new system installations can receive a $100 discount. This offer is available only for system replacements and highlights the company's dedication to providing excellent value and service to their community. "Our 100th anniversary is a testament to the trust our community has placed in us," said Bill Durand, CEO of Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC. "We are excited to celebrate this milestone and to offer this special discount as a token of our appreciation to the community."

Alongside their heating services, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC remains committed to providing thorough plumbing solutions. They tackle a wide range of problems, from unclogging drains to maintaining sump pumps. The company's focus on keeping homes running smoothly has made them a reliable name in the local area, reflecting their commitment to quality and dependability. To explore various options for heating solutions, one can visit their heating services page.

In addition, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC is using digital platforms to interact with and inform their customers. Their website and social media pages provide information about the variety of services they offer, along with details about monthly specials. Prospective customers can visit their heating service page for more information or check out the details of the monthly special.

To make their services accessible, the company offers flexible payment plans through their partnership with GreenSky®. These financing options help clients manage unexpected repair costs without stress. They also offer a $99 annual Service Partner Agreement, which includes regular check-ups and allows customers to avoid after-hours service charges. This agreement is designed to give customers peace of mind by ensuring regular maintenance and a quick response when needed. More about their financing options is available on their financing page.

According to Durand, forming a strong relationship with customers relies on being actively engaged and transparent with them. "We're committed to maintaining our excellent track record of service," he said. "Our monthly specials, like the current furnace repair focus, allow us to offer our community meaningful solutions that align with their needs." Additionally, targeted news articles help highlight the company's ongoing dedication to top-tier service and customer satisfaction.

With a 4.8-star rating on Google and consistently positive feedback, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC prioritizes customer service and keeps a high standard of care. Whether through regular maintenance or emergency services, their team of dedicated technicians ensures each job is completed with skill and precision.

As they celebrate their 100th anniversary, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC takes an active role in engaging with the community through both digital and traditional service channels. Their commitment to quality service and community support underscores their leadership in the residential plumbing and HVAC industry. By visiting the dedicated contest page, customers can learn more about their chance to win a free furnace as part of the ongoing celebrations.

For a century, Northwest Plumbing Heating & AC has been a trusted partner for home maintenance needs in the Quad Cities. Their ongoing commitment to excellence and customer satisfaction shows why they have become a name locals trust in residential heating, cooling, and plumbing. By reducing cost barriers through innovative solutions and monthly specials, they reinforce their dedication to serving the community now and in the future. Incorporating channels such as a news article ensures the company maintains a consistent and transparent communication strategy with its audience.
