Sydney, Australia ? STM Trucks & Machinery, one of the most trusted suppliers of high-quality trucks, machinery, and parts in Australia, is reaffirming its commitment to keeping businesses moving with an extensive product range, expert servicing, and customer-first solutions. With over 50 years of experience, STM has built a reputation as a reliable and customer-focused provider for industries such as construction, transport, logistics, agriculture, and earthmoving.

As a family-owned and operated business, STM prides itself on delivering personalised service, expert advice, and tailored solutions that meet the specific needs of each client. From new and used trucks to premium heavy machinery, spare parts, and professional servicing, STM is a one-stop shop for businesses seeking durable and efficient equipment.

Founded as Sydney Trucks and Machinery, STM has evolved into a leading supplier of trucks and machinery in New South Wales, with locations in Smeaton Grange, Queanbeyan West, and Unanderra. Over the years, STM has expanded its offerings to include a wide selection of new trucks from industry-leading brands such as IVECO and Fuso, ensuring customers get the latest in performance, efficiency, and reliability.

In addition to new trucks, STM offers a regularly updated inventory of high-quality pre-owned trucks and machinery, providing businesses with affordable alternatives without compromising on performance. Every used vehicle and machine undergoes rigorous inspection and testing to ensure it meets STM?s high standards of reliability and durability.

The company?s extensive range of machinery includes top brands like Kobelco, D?Avino, Merlo, and ASV, making STM a go-to destination for businesses in need of excavators, loaders, telehandlers, dumpers, and more. Whether a customer is looking for heavy-duty construction equipment or versatile machinery for agricultural applications, STM delivers solutions that maximise productivity and efficiency.

STM doesn?t just sell trucks and machinery?it ensures they remain in top working condition. With a state-of-the-art workshop open six days a week, STM provides expert servicing, maintenance, and repairs for trucks, heavy machinery, and fleet vehicles of all sizes.

Designed for maximum customer convenience, the workshop is fully equipped to handle large vehicles, including B-Doubles, ensuring that businesses operating with heavy transport can rely on STM for professional servicing and repairs. The company understands that equipment downtime can be costly, so it goes beyond traditional servicing by offering comprehensive solutions tailored to keep businesses running smoothly.

To further minimise downtime, STM provides 24/7 emergency repair services, ensuring that unexpected breakdowns are resolved quickly and efficiently. This around-the-clock support means businesses can continue operations without long delays, reducing potential financial losses due to equipment failure.

For added convenience, STM also offers on-site servicing and repairs, eliminating the need for businesses to transport their vehicles or machinery to a service center. This mobile servicing option allows companies to focus on their operations while STM?s experienced technicians handle maintenance and repairs directly at their location.

Every service is carried out by expert technicians who are highly trained and experienced in working with a wide range of truck and machinery brands. Their in-depth knowledge and precision ensure that each vehicle and piece of equipment is maintained to the highest industry standards, providing customers with the reliability and efficiency they need to keep their businesses moving.

Keeping trucks and machinery in peak condition requires access to the right parts. STM offers an extensive inventory of genuine and aftermarket spare parts for leading brands. Whether customers need engine components, braking systems, electrical accessories, or custom parts, STM provides fast and efficient sourcing. In cases where a part is not immediately available, STM?s experienced parts team works quickly to secure it, ensuring minimal disruption to business operations.

?Our focus is not just on selling trucks and machinery, but on ensuring that our customers receive the best solutions for their businesses,? says a spokesperson at STM Trucks & Machinery. ?From providing high-quality equipment to expert servicing and finance options, we?re dedicated to helping businesses succeed by keeping them on the road and in the field.?
