Kanban Training Courses Launched by agileKRC in Partnership with Ripple Rock to Enhance Organisational Agility in London

April 23, 2025

LONDON, UK - April 23, 2025 -

In a significant move to enhance organisational agility, agileKRC has announced the launch of its new Kanban training courses in collaboration with Ripple Rock, a renowned provider of agile coaching and consultancy services. Based in London, this partnership aims to deliver high-impact Kanban training to individuals and organisations eager to streamline their workflow and achieve recognised qualifications. By offering these courses, agileKRC and Ripple Rock are addressing the growing demand for expert-led Kanban instruction at competitive rates, thereby enabling clients to unlock their full potential in the modern business landscape. This development is particularly important for those seeking to integrate agile methodologies into their existing frameworks and improve operational efficiencies.

Jay Gao, Operations Manager at agileKRC, expressed enthusiasm about the partnership, highlighting its potential to transform businesses. "Our collaboration with Ripple Rock is a strategic step towards providing comprehensive and flexible Kanban training solutions," said Gao. "We believe that equipping our clients with Kanban skills will not only enhance their workflow efficiency but also position them competitively in their respective industries. The courses are designed to cover in-depth knowledge of Kanban practices, ensuring participants gain valuable insights and expertise." By integrating the strengths of both organisations, the partnership aims to create a robust training platform that supports continuous learning and development in agile practices.

For those interested in exploring the benefits of Kanban training, further information can be accessed on agileKRC's website. These courses are not just about gaining a qualification; they are an opportunity to build upon existing skills and adapt to the ever-evolving demands of the workplace. With the increasing need for agile methodologies, particularly in dynamic business environments, these training sessions are a timely addition for professionals aiming to enhance their capabilities. Participants are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to develop their proficiency in Kanban and stay ahead in their careers.

The partnership with Ripple Rock also offers additional benefits, such as one-to-one coaching and Master Class sessions, which are designed to optimise and complement current agile structures. "Our mission is to assist organisations in evolving and unlocking their true potential," stated Jay Gao. By providing flexible learning schedules, Ripple Rock ensures that even professionals with demanding timetables can participate. More details about their offerings can be found at https://agilekrc.com/agile/agile-training-courses. The courses are accredited by Kanban University, ensuring that participants receive globally recognised qualifications that can significantly enhance their professional credibility.

As businesses increasingly adopt agile methodologies to enhance productivity and responsiveness, the demand for skilled professionals in this area is expected to rise. The introduction of Kanban training courses through agileKRC and Ripple Rock is a proactive response to this trend, providing organisations with the tools needed to remain competitive. By equipping individuals with the expertise to implement Kanban effectively, the partnership aims to foster an agile culture that can adapt to changing market conditions and drive innovation. This initiative not only benefits individual learners but also contributes to the broader business ecosystem by promoting efficient work practices.
